Ridgway Opposed To Army Manpower Cut

Reduction Not Recommended By Joint Chiefs

Bowed To Decision Of Civil Authorities, General Declares

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — Army Chief of Staff Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said today he bowed to the decision to cut Army manpower but the reasoning on which he originally opposed it "has not altered."

Ridgway told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the reduction was not recommended or concurred in by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The Army had about 1,300,000 men at the start of this year, is down to around 1,270,000 now, and is scheduled to drop to 1,027,000 by the middle of 1956.

Under questioning, Ridgway said he had recommended that the Army be held at 1,300,000.

Civilian Decision

"My recommendations, while this was in the debate stage," the general said, "were of course made from the military point of view. I recognize fully that the civilian authorities of the government who make the final decision have many factors other than the military to consider. It was their decision that reduced to the figures you have before you."

The subcommittee is considering the 34-billion-dollar defense budget for the 1956 fiscal year beginning July 1. The Army's share of the budget is around seven billions.

Russian Advances Noted

The Air Force would get the biggest part—more than 14½ billions. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, said that will be adequate to meet Air Force needs, although Russia has made notable and surprising advances in planes and weapons in the last year that definitely threaten American security.

Twining also said the U. S. Air Force is being built up ahead of schedule and "should stay ahead," —with emphasis on quality, nuclear weapons and guided missiles.

He said Russia is known to be working on an intercontinental guided missile and has developed a new heavy jet bomber "aimed squarely in our direction."

The projected cutbacks in the Army have stirred up more controversy over the defense budget than any other issue.

Stassen Refuses To Hand Over 10 Papers To Probe

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen declined today to hand over 10 documents to the Senate Investigations subcommittee until he has a chance to review them. He said they were confidential exchanges within the government's executive branch.

Stassen, head of the Foreign Operations Administration, thus tangled again with senators who say they are determined to get all the facts on an FOA project to build some grain elevators in Pakistan.

Subpoena Question

"You understand," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told him, "that in event of your refusal this committee would have no remedy but to subpoena the documents. Would you resist a subpoena?"

Stassen declined to say. "The premise of the whole matter is an 'if' situation," he told McClellan. "I would prefer to see whether the 'if' situation ever arises."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), an old Stassen antagonist, at one point accused the foreign aid chief of lying under oath and demanded he be called before a grand jury.

McClellan said he wouldn't interrupt the hearing at this time for a side issue. He said McCarthy could make the request later if he wanted to.

McCarthy Challenges Stassen

What aroused McCarthy was Stassen's testimony that when McCarthy ran the subcommittee, its investigators would not let FOA witnesses see the transcripts of their testimony and the witnesses were cross-examined on the basis of "doctored" transcripts.

"Mr. Stassen has perjured himself," McCarthy said. "He is not telling the truth. He knows that and we know that."

McCarthy challenged Stassen to identify a single transcript that was doctored. Stassen was unable to do so. He said, however, the whole record of the McCarthy-Army hearings last year would show what he was talking about.

Girl Who Planned To Join WAF Weds Recruiter Instead

TAMPA, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Naomi Ailene McCall came to Tampa to join the Women's Air Force. Instead she married the recruiting sergeant.

After S. Sgt. Paul W. Daniels got all the necessary information, he told her there would be a delay while the application was processed.

He used the delay to ask a few personal questions. Soon he was going to Miss McCall's home in Brooksville, 60 miles north of Tampa, on business not strictly connected with the application.

Somehow the application got sidetracked completely and last night the two were married.

More Violence Marks Southern Telephone Tieup

ATLANTA, April 6 (AP)—A state of emergency was declared in Birmingham, Ala., today and extra police were ordered on duty to prevent further violence in a strike against the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Police Commissioner Robert E. Lindbergh canceled all police leaves of absence and suspended their vacations through April. He also ordered six special police cars added to night shifts to help protect non-strikers.

The strike, now in its 24th day, has been accompanied by shootings, hair pulling, egg throwing, stink bombs and paint splashings in nine states served by Southern Bell.

Hatchet wielders and others using dynamite cut and blasted additional cables today and last night in several states. Union leaders disclaim responsibility for any property damage.

In Tennessee, the Maryville, LaFollette and Jellico exchanges are closed. The Maryville exchange closed Sunday after police authorities told the company they were "powerless to cope with the situation" and advised it be shut down.

Emergency In Algeria

PARIS, April 6 (AP)—The French Interior Ministry today declared a state of emergency in four parts of Algeria where violence broke out a few months ago.

Texas Twisters Cause One Death, Heavy Damage

SHERMAN, Tex., April 6 (AP)—One man was killed, 27 injured and damage was in the millions as tornadoes and severe windstorms smashed across a 5,000-square-mile area of North Central Texas today.

Greatest damage was in the heavily populated northern suburb of this city on the main highway leading to the nearby city of Denison.

Tornadoes whipped into the little communities of Buffalo Springs, Post Oak and Newport, all near Wichita Falls.

Widespread Damage

The storm here was listed as severe wind rather than a tornado. Heavy wind damage also was reported at Bonham, Pilot Point and Sanger, and in the area of Henrietta and Kacksboro. Lesser damage was caused in numerous other towns and communities.

Killed in a Sherman suburb was Lee Barnes, 60, an oil well drilling rig nightwatchman. He apparently was killed by flying debris.

The estimate of millions of dollars damage came from Bob Weddle of the Sherman Democrat, local newspaper.

Homes Lifted From Foundations

Many homes here were lifted from their foundations, some were unroofed and other hundreds suffered lesser damage. Pipes carrying natural gas were broken. Blown-down signs littered the highways and TV antennas were bent like wheat straws.

Nearby Perrin Air Force Base suffered considerable damage. Two planes were lifted and smashed into a building, two large hangars were unroofed and planes torn from their moorings as winds reached 81 m.p.h.

Oldest Cured Cancer Patient Dies At 100

BRIDGTON, Maine, April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Julia M. Chadbourne, believed to be the nation's oldest cured cancer patient, died today. She was 100.

The American Cancer Society listed her as "thought to be the nation's oldest cured cancer patient." She underwent a successful operation for cancer when well past 80.

Relatives said she died of old age, not cancer.

Carney Denial He Predicted War Disputed

Correspondent Says Notes Show Admiral Did Make Statement

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The dispute rolled on today whether Adm. Robert B. Carney did, or did not, tell a group of correspondents the Chinese Reds might launch a war assault by mid-April.

Robert L. Riggs, Washington correspondent for the Louisville Courier-Journal, said his extensive shorthand and longhand notes show Carney made the statement at a now-famous background dinner for reporters March 24.

Riggs wrote that Carney said at least four times he expected an attack by April 15, saying among other things that the Chinese Reds "probably will initiate an attack on Matsu in mid-April."

Carney Declines Comment

Carney, chief of naval operations, told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee yesterday that "I never made such a statement." He declined all comment today.

Paul R. Leach, head of the Washington Bureau of the Chicago Daily News who was also at the dinner, said Carney was "technically correct" in saying he did not predict an attack on Matsu April 15.

"My notes do not have Carney saying the Reds would make the attack on the Matsus by mid-April," Leach wrote, "but that they could be 'able' to initiate an attack, perhaps that early."

Admiral To Testify Again

The Philadelphia Bulletin and the Chicago Sun-Times today published stories based on the notes Riggs took.

Two senators who heard the Carney denial, Ellender (D-La) and Chavez (D-NM), expressed some interest in possibly questioning Carney further on the matter. Chavez, chairman of the subcommittee, said the admiral will testify again and "we probably will take up with him" the contrary versions.

Ellender said: "I certainly hope he was telling the truth yesterday."

GM, Auto Union Will Open Talks

DETROIT, April 6 (AP)—New labor contract negotiations in the automobile industry open formally tomorrow with a guaranteed annual wage as the No. 1 issue.

For the first time in five years, General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers sit down together to talk contract terms.

Next Tuesday, the union and Ford will do likewise, again with GAW as the big issue.

Affected by the ultimate results will be half a million GM and Ford workers.

Approximately another million auto industry workers eventually also may be affected—if a "pattern" for the industry is set in Ford and GM—also untold thousands in other industries linked to autos.

Both Ford and GM have held preliminary talks with CIO President Walter Reuther's auto workers. These were described as mostly exploratory, however, for the purpose of programming future talks.

On the eve of the formal negotiations, neither the UAW nor managements added to previous statements about GAW.

Arms Talks Recessed

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—The five-power U. N. subcommittee on disarmament held its 40th meeting today and recessed for a week, a communique announced.

Four Well-Schooled Bandits Pull Biggest Cash Bank Robbery

READY FOR TROUBLE — Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, testifying in Washington before the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee, declares that the U.S. is practically doubling production of naval guided missiles. He said it was part of a program to hit an enemy hard, fast and precisely in event of an attack.

Rehearsed For Six Months, Then Struck To Tune Of $305,243

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Four cocksure bandits, schooled to fine precision by six months of rehearsal, today pulled history's biggest cash bank holdup. They got $305,243, mostly in small bills.

The job went off as smooth as clockwork. Not a shot was fired, not an outcry raised.

"Don't do anything foolish," the victims were warned.

The robbers had painstakingly cased the bank, a Chase Manhattan branch in Queens. They remarked to one employe they had studied the layout for six months.

They knew the names and working habits of some 11 employes. They even knew first names of the people under their guns.

Three of the men, one with a submachine gun, operated as a field force, kidnaping a bank teller outside his home. They used him to gain entrance to the locked bank just before it opened for the day.

Fourth Man Drives Car

The fourth man waited in reserve at the wheel of a getaway car.

Nearly a third of a million dollars in neat package lay at their mercy on the floor of the bank. It had just been taken from a vault.

In an unrelated holdup in Lower Manhattan, miles away from the bank, three masked men robbed a jewelry firm of $75,000 to $100,000 in uninsured diamonds.

The loot in no way approached the record $1,219,000 taken in the Brinks Express Co. stickup in Boston five years ago. But it was easily the largest cash strike ever made against an American bank. Largest previous haul was $190,319 in 1953 from a Floral Park bank on Long Island.

The drama of precise, split second timing began at 8:35 a.m. as teller Henry Bardenhagen, 24, left his home about 16 blocks from the bank. He was stepping into his car when a man appeared with a gun and quietly ordered:

"Okay, Henry, get in back."

Manager Confronted With Gun

Two other men closed in and the trio of gunmen got into the car with the teller. The first man, the apparent leader, drove.

At the bank, the driver stepped from the car and spotted Manager William Downing, chatting on the sidewalk with a business acquaintance.

By order of the gunmen, Bardenhagen called Downing over. The manager was confronted with a gun. The two bank employes were forced to unlock the front door.

The holdup men helped themselves to bundles of cash resting on a dolly—a small, four-wheeled flatcar. It had been taken from the vault minutes before.

The gunmen carried the loot to their waiting car. With a final admonition to the bank employes not to sound an alarm, the quartet roared away.

Israel Declares Egyptian 'Siege' Threatens Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 6 (AP)—Israel warned today the Israeli-Egyptian armistice may "cease to exist" unless the Egyptians end what she called a steady, accumulating, relentless siege of Israel.

Ambassador Abba Eban, Israeli delegate, appealed for U.N. action at an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council. After an hour's session, the council adjourned until it receives reports from the U.N. truce supervision organization in the tense Gaza strip area.

Eban said Egypt is carrying out a deliberate policy of hostility by repeated acts against Israeli forces and citizens along the border of the Egyptian-held strip. He said Israel expects protection from the Security Council and asked for an "expression of concern" from the Council.

"It is clear," Eban said, "that if this incessant Egyptian provocation continues, then the situation might well arise in which the armistice agreement will in effect have ceased to exist."

Ambassador Omar Loutfi, Egypt's delegate, countered with a charge that Israel was trying to turn aside a condemnation voted by the Council last week for an Israeli raid on an Egyptian outpost.

Ski Planes Rescue 4 Trapped By Snow

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 6 (AP)—Ski-equipped planes today rescued four men trapped by a blizzard that dumped up to 40 inches of snow in Northern Wyoming and Montana earlier this week.

Meanwhile, authorities checked reports that close to a dozen persons were missing in Montana and Wyoming, including a party of four or five uranium prospectors in the rugged Pumpkin Buttes area of Northeastern Wyoming.

Three Sheridan men were brought to safety by a ski-equipped plane after they had holed up in a deserted rural church 17 miles east of Sheridan since Sunday.

Nation Swept By Speculation Over Election

New Prime Minister Praises Churchill In Commons Speech

LONDON, April 6 (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden confidently shouldered complex new burdens today as Britain's 42nd Prime Minister while his time-bowed predecessor, Sir Winston Churchill, wept upon leaving No. 10 Downing St.

Cheers echoed for them both, but those for Churchill carried the emotional impact of sentiment and sorrow.

Eden—friend of America and foe of totalitarians—devoted his first speech in the House of Commons as Prime Minister to praise of the 80-year-old statesman who guided him to the political heights. He made the speech less than four hours after receiving from Queen Elizabeth II the mandate to form a government in succession to Churchill's.

New Premier Only 57

The new Premier—at 57 the youngest in three decades—reminded the House that Churchill will "still be the dominant figure among us."

Churchill remains a member of the House of Commons, but he did not attend the session today.

Instead he paced slowly through the rooms of No. 10 Downing St., the official home of prime ministers, and then made his farewell, his lips quivering and his eyes brimming with tears.

Churchill unquestionably could have a dukedom with a nod of his head. But the old warrior intends to stay on as an elder statesman in the Commons, the center of his life for 55 years.

In a letter to his constituents at Woodford, Essex, he said only old age forced him out of the prime ministry and he will run again for his place in Parliament at the next general election.

Election Talk Sweeps Nation

Election speculation swept the country as the change in leadership was completed. Talk as to dates ranges all the way from May 26 through this fall. The government must call an election before October, 1956, when its 5-year term ends.

Eden has the responsibility of organizing his own government. For his post as foreign secretary, Eden is understood to have settled on Defense Minister Harold Macmillan, 60.

Like Churchill and Eden, the elegant Macmillan—wartime associate of President Eisenhower in North Africa—is a staunch friend of the United States.

Judge Again Seeks "Date" With Marilyn

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 6 (AP)—A judge attempted again to set a court date with Marilyn Monroe by issuing a bench warrant today for her arrest and setting bail at $250.

When the shapely blonde failed to appear in February to answer a traffic citation she got last Nov. 21 on a charge of driving without a license, Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin issued a warrant, setting bail at $100.

Morris Brown, a Champaign, Ill., bail bondsman posted the $100, as a "friendly gesture." The case was continued two or three times at the request of Miss Monroe's lawyer, W. C. Fields Jr. son of the late comedian.

The judge ordered the $100 bail forfeited, issued a new bench warrant and set the higher bail.

Kerr Asks A-Weapon Ban In Isles' Defense

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) appealed publicly to President Eisenhower today to ban the use of atomic weapons in any defense of Quemoy and Matsu.

Kerr said in a statement that the employment of other than conventional weapons in fending off any Red Chinese attack against the islands "could provoke massive retaliation against American families and American homes."

Eisenhower has said that precision atomic weapons may be used on military targets in any hostilities larger than a mere police action. This has been accepted generally in Congress as indicating such weapons would be employed if a major engagement develops in the Formosa area.

Teeners Offer Suggestions For Better Highway Safety

PITTSBURGH, April 6 (AP)—A group of teen-agers interested in highway safety, came up with some suggestions for improvement today—and they said adults could profit, too.

Although insurance statistics show teen-agers have a higher percentage of auto wrecks than those over 21, the teen-agers were defended as a group by Capt. J. G. McCann, a State Police veteran. The youngsters, said Capt. McCann, show a more honest interest in themselves than do their parents.

After a day-long conference the more than 200 teen-agers attending the safety conference came up with some conclusions. Among them:

There should be a state law requiring reexamination of adult drivers.

There are more show-off drivers among adults than among teen-agers.

A person drives according to ability, not age.

The state should increase the driver-training program in schools and offer the course to adults as well.

Atomic Antiaircraft Device Exploded At Record Height

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 6 (AP)—A dazzling atomic antiaircraft device, a portent of flaming doom for enemy sky invaders, was exploded today at a record height of six miles.

The tiny, powerful blast—prototype of a nuclear air-to-air missile perhaps capable of destroying an entire formation of planes — appeared brighter than the sun to observers in Las Vegas, 75 miles away.

Dropped from an Air Force B36 bomber believed to be flying at 40,000 feet or higher, the atomic device burst somewhere above 30,000 feet.

The Atomic energy Commission and the Department of Defense lauded the "precise positioning and timing" with which the Air Force crews carried out their assignments. The detonation was believed controlled by AEC scientists at the Yucca Flat ground control point.

In an announcement last week, the AEC and the Defense Department indicated atomic antiaircraft weapons being developed will include missiles to be launched from interceptor planes or fired by artillery on the ground.

"Because of their great power, atomic air defense weapons will greatly increase our ability to repel an enemy air attack," the Defense Department said.

Today's device had "a relatively limited yield," the AEC said, indicating it was one of the smallest exploded in Nevada tests. The fireball lasted only a few seconds and the cloud shaped into a doughnut, rather than a mushroom.

Churchill Weeps As He Says Farewell To 10 Downing Street

LONDON, April 6 (AP) — Old Winston Churchill said farewell to No. 10 Downing St. today, his lips quivering and his eyes choked with tears.

Walking out of the residence of British prime ministers—for the last time as its rightful occupant—proved too much for the tough old warrior. He just stood there on the door steps and cried.

"Good Old Winnie," and "God bless you Winnie" came in shouts from the crowd that jammed the narrow deadend street.

Churchill stood there on the steps of No. 10, bareheaded and hiding from no one that his last act of resignation wrung at his heart.

He looked for a moment as if he were going to speak, but then he blinked his tear-swoolen eyes, and slowly raised a long cigar to his trembling lips.

At this the crowd, which was cheering all the time, let loose another tremendous roar and the Old Lion—his own definition of himself—stuck up two fingers in the famous V-for-Victory sign.

"You gave 'em wot for in your day, Winnie," shouted a man in the front row of the crowd that police were struggling to keep back.

Churchill turned his head slowly to the left and to the right. The flashbulbs of photographers lit up his pink face and his eyes now red with tears.

Slowly, as if he were physically wrenching himself away from No. 10, the 80-year-old statesman shuffled to the door of his waiting automobile.

The crowd continued to roar and the police pushed and shoved to hold them back.

Churchill eased his bulk into the back seat of the car. The chauffeur wrapped a lap rug over his knees. The underside of the rug was lined with the Union Jack.

The chauffeur put the car into gear and moved the automobile forward for an inch or two, but Churchill stopped him. As photographers flocked around the car, the man in the rear seat raised his left hand in the V sign.

The crowd's cheering swelled into another great roar and the car rolled off to Chartwell, Churchill's country home.

Stassen Refuses To Hand Over 10 Papers To Probe

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen declined today to hand over 10 documents to the Senate Investigations subcommittee until he has a chance to review them. He said they were confidential exchanges within the government's executive branch.

"You understand," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told him, "that in event of your refusal this committee would have no remedy but to subpoena the documents. Would you resist a subpoena?"

Stassen declined to say. "The premise of the whole matter is an 'if' situation," he told McClellan. "I would prefer to see whether the 'if' situation ever arises."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), an old Stassen antagonist, at one point accused the foreign aid chief of lying under oath and demanded he be called before a grand jury.

McClellan said he wouldn't interrupt the hearing at this time for a side issue. He said McCarthy could make the request later if he wanted to.

McCarthy Challenges Stassen

What aroused McCarthy was Stassen's testimony that when McCarthy ran the subcommittee, its investigators would not let FOA witnesses see the transcripts of their testimony and the witnesses were cross-examined on the basis of "doctored" transcripts.

"Mr. Stassen has perjured himself," McCarthy said. "He is not telling the truth. He knows that and we know that."

McCarthy challenged Stassen to identify a single transcript that was doctored. Stassen was unable to do so. He said, however, the whole record of the McCarthy-Army hearings last year would show what he was talking about.

Girl Who Planned To Join WAF Weds Recruiter Instead

TAMPA, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Naomi Ailene McCall came to Tampa to join the Women's Air Force. Instead she married the recruiting sergeant.

After S. Sgt. Paul W. Daniels got all the necessary information, he told her there would be a delay while the application was processed.

He used the delay to ask a few personal questions. Soon he was going to Miss McCall's home in Brooksville, 60 miles north of Tampa, on business not strictly connected with the application.

Somehow the application got sidetracked completely and last night the two were married.

More Violence Marks Southern Telephone Tieup

ATLANTA, April 6 (AP)—A state of emergency was declared in Birmingham, Ala., today and extra police were ordered on duty to prevent further violence in a strike against the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Police Commissioner Robert E. Lindbergh canceled all police leaves of absence and suspended their vacations through April. He also ordered six special police cars added to night shifts to help protect non-strikers.

The strike, now in its 24th day, has been accompanied by shootings, hair pulling, egg throwing, stink bombs and paint splashings in nine states served by Southern Bell.

Hatchet wielders and others using dynamite cut and blasted additional cables today and last night in several states. Union leaders disclaim responsibility for any property damage.

In Tennessee, the Maryville, LaFollette and Jellico exchanges are closed. The Maryville exchange closed Sunday after police authorities told the company they were "powerless to cope with the situation" and advised it be shut down.

Texas Twisters Cause One Death, Heavy Damage

SHERMAN, Tex., April 6 (AP)—One man was killed, 27 injured and damage was in the millions as tornadoes and severe windstorms smashed across a 5,000-square-mile area of North Central Texas today.

Greatest damage was in the heavily populated northern suburb of this city on the main highway leading to the nearby city of Denison.

Tornadoes whipped into the little communities of Buffalo Springs, Post Oak and Newport, all near Wichita Falls.

Widespread Damage

The storm here was listed as severe wind rather than a tornado. Heavy wind damage also was reported at Bonham, Pilot Point and Sanger, and in the area of Henrietta and Kacksboro. Lesser damage was caused in numerous other towns and communities.

Killed in a Sherman suburb was Lee Barnes, 60, an oil well drilling rig nightwatchman. He apparently was killed by flying debris.

The estimate of millions of dollars damage came from Bob Weddle of the Sherman Democrat, local newspaper.

Homes Lifted From Foundations

Many homes here were lifted from their foundations, some were unroofed and other hundreds suffered lesser damage. Pipes carrying natural gas were broken. Blown-down signs littered the highways and TV antennas were bent like wheat straws.

Nearby Perrin Air Force Base suffered considerable damage. Two planes were lifted and smashed into a building, two large hangars were unroofed and planes torn from their moorings as winds reached 81 m.p.h.

Oldest Cured Cancer Patient Dies At 100

BRIDGTON, Maine, April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Julia M. Chadbourne, believed to be the nation's oldest cured cancer patient, died today. She was 100.

The American Cancer Society listed her as "thought to be the nation's oldest cured cancer patient." She underwent a successful operation for cancer when well past 80.

Relatives said she died of old age, not cancer.

Emergency In Algeria

PARIS, April 6 (AP)—The French Interior Ministry today declared a state of emergency in four parts of Algeria where violence broke out a few months ago.

GM, Auto Union Will Open Talks

DETROIT, April 6 (AP)—New labor contract negotiations in the automobile industry open formally tomorrow with a guaranteed annual wage as the No. 1 issue.

For the first time in five years, General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers sit down together to talk contract terms.

Next Tuesday, the union and Ford will do likewise, again with GAW as the big issue.

Affected by the ultimate results will be half a million GM and Ford workers.

Approximately another million auto industry workers eventually also may be affected—if a "pattern" for the industry is set in Ford and GM—also untold thousands in other industries linked to autos.

Both Ford and GM have held preliminary talks with CIO President Walter Reuther's auto workers. These were described as mostly exploratory, however, for the purpose of programming future talks.

On the eve of the formal negotiations, neither the UAW nor managements added to previous statements about GAW.

Arms Talks Recessed

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—The five-power U. N. subcommittee on disarmament held its 40th meeting today and recessed for a week, a communique announced.

Israel Declares Egyptian 'Siege' Threatens Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 6 (AP)—Israel warned today the Israeli-Egyptian armistice may "cease to exist" unless the Egyptians end what she called a steady, accumulating, relentless siege of Israel.

Ambassador Abba Eban, Israeli delegate, appealed for U.N. action at an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council. After an hour's session, the council adjourned until it receives reports from the U.N. truce supervision organization in the tense Gaza strip area.

Eban said Egypt is carrying out a deliberate policy of hostility by repeated acts against Israeli forces and citizens along the border of the Egyptian-held strip. He said Israel expects protection from the Security Council and asked for an "expression of concern" from the Council.

"It is clear," Eban said, "that if this incessant Egyptian provocation continues, then the situation might well arise in which the armistice agreement will in effect have ceased to exist."

Ambassador Omar Loutfi, Egypt's delegate, countered with a charge that Israel was trying to turn aside a condemnation voted by the Council last week for an Israeli raid on an Egyptian outpost.

Ski Planes Rescue 4 Trapped By Snow

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 6 (AP)—Ski-equipped planes today rescued four men trapped by a blizzard that dumped up to 40 inches of snow in Northern Wyoming and Montana earlier this week.

Meanwhile, authorities checked reports that close to a dozen persons were missing in Montana and Wyoming, including a party of four or five uranium prospectors in the rugged Pumpkin Buttes area of Northeastern Wyoming.

Three Sheridan men were brought to safety by a ski-equipped plane after they had holed up in a deserted rural church 17 miles east of Sheridan since Sunday.

Actor Drove While Tipsy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Actor Brian Donlevy, 52, was convicted today of drunk driving. The judge fined him $150 and ordered him to refrain from drinking for a year.

Judge Again Seeks "Date" With Marilyn

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 6 (AP)—A judge attempted again to set a court date with Marilyn Monroe by issuing a bench warrant today for her arrest and setting bail at $250.

When the shapely blonde failed to appear in February to answer a traffic citation she got last Nov. 21 on a charge of driving without a license, Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin issued a warrant, setting bail at $100.

Morris Brown, a Champaign, Ill., bail bondsman posted the $100, as a "friendly gesture." The case was continued two or three times at the request of Miss Monroe's lawyer, W. C. Fields Jr. son of the late comedian.

The judge ordered the $100 bail forfeited, issued a new bench warrant and set the higher bail.

Kerr Asks A-Weapon Ban In Isles' Defense

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) appealed publicly to President Eisenhower today to ban the use of atomic weapons in any defense of Quemoy and Matsu.

Kerr said in a statement that the employment of other than conventional weapons in fending off any Red Chinese attack against the islands "could provoke massive retaliation against American families and American homes."

Eisenhower has said that precision atomic weapons may be used on military targets in any hostilities larger than a mere police action. This has been accepted generally in Congress as indicating such weapons would be employed if a major engagement develops in the Formosa area.

Teeners Offer Suggestions For Better Highway Safety

PITTSBURGH, April 6 (AP)—A group of teen-agers interested in highway safety, came up with some suggestions for improvement today—and they said adults could profit, too.

Although insurance statistics show teen-agers have a higher percentage of auto wrecks than those over 21, the teen-agers were defended as a group by Capt. J. G. McCann, a State Police veteran. The youngsters, said Capt. McCann, show a more honest interest in themselves than do their parents.

After a day-long conference the more than 200 teen-agers attending the safety conference came up with some conclusions. Among them:

There should be a state law requiring reexamination of adult drivers.

There are more show-off drivers among adults than among teen-agers.

A person drives according to ability, not age.

The state should increase the driver-training program in schools and offer the course to adults as well.

Churchill Weeps As He Says Farewell To 10 Downing Street

LONDON, April 6 (AP) — Old Winston Churchill said farewell to No. 10 Downing St. today, his lips quivering and his eyes choked with tears.

Walking out of the residence of British prime ministers—for the last time as its rightful occupant—proved too much for the tough old warrior. He just stood there on the door steps and cried.

"Good Old Winnie," and "God bless you Winnie" came in shouts from the crowd that jammed the narrow deadend street.

Churchill stood there on the steps of No. 10, bareheaded and hiding from no one that his last act of resignation wrung at his heart.

He looked for a moment as if he were going to speak, but then he blinked his tear-swoolen eyes, and slowly raised a long cigar to his trembling lips.

At this the crowd, which was cheering all the time, let loose another tremendous roar and the Old Lion—his own definition of himself—stuck up two fingers in the famous V-for-Victory sign.

"You gave 'em wot for in your day, Winnie," shouted a man in the front row of the crowd that police were struggling to keep back.

Churchill turned his head slowly to the left and to the right. The flashbulbs of photographers lit up his pink face and his eyes now red with tears.

Slowly, as if he were physically wrenching himself away from No. 10, the 80-year-old statesman shuffled to the door of his waiting automobile.

The crowd continued to roar and the police pushed and shoved to hold them back.

Churchill eased his bulk into the back seat of the car. The chauffeur wrapped a lap rug over his knees. The underside of the rug was lined with the Union Jack.

The chauffeur put the car into gear and moved the automobile forward for an inch or two, but Churchill stopped him. As photographers flocked around the car, the man in the rear seat raised his left hand in the V sign.

The crowd's cheering swelled into another great roar and the car rolled off to Chartwell, Churchill's country home.

Atomic Antiaircraft Device Exploded At Record Height

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 6 (AP)—A dazzling atomic antiaircraft device, a portent of flaming doom for enemy sky invaders, was exploded today at a record height of six miles.

The tiny, powerful blast—prototype of a nuclear air-to-air missile perhaps capable of destroying an entire formation of planes — appeared brighter than the sun to observers in Las Vegas, 75 miles away.

Dropped from an Air Force B36 bomber believed to be flying at 40,000 feet or higher, the atomic device burst somewhere above 30,000 feet.

The Atomic energy Commission and the Department of Defense lauded the "precise positioning and timing" with which the Air Force crews carried out their assignments. The detonation was believed controlled by AEC scientists at the Yucca Flat ground control point.

In an announcement last week, the AEC and the Defense Department indicated atomic antiaircraft weapons being developed will include missiles to be launched from interceptor planes or fired by artillery on the ground.

"Because of their great power, atomic air defense weapons will greatly increase our ability to repel an enemy air attack," the Defense Department said.

Today's device had "a relatively limited yield," the AEC said, indicating it was one of the smallest exploded in Nevada tests. The fireball lasted only a few seconds and the cloud shaped into a doughnut, rather than a mushroom.

Chiang Officers Say Control Of Formosa Strait Vital To Peace

Challenge By Reds Seen Forcing Fight Or Retreat Decision

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 6 (AP)—Three Chinese Nationalist military leaders said in interviews today that peace in Asia will last only so long as the West controls Formosa Strait.

When the Communists get into a position to challenge that control—of sea and air—their opposition will have to fight or retreat, these leaders said. They declared control of the strait is slipping away now.

All three asked anonymity because of the subject, while military, encroaches on the political field.

They presented the side of the argument which holds that the only war capable of being localized in this area is one to keep the Reds out of the strait.

That means a war to hold the offshore islands of Quemoy and the Matsus. That means keeping Red gunboats out of the strait. That means bombing South China's airfield network now being built. The network may enable Peiping to wrest control of the air over the strait.

Last year the Communists established big air bases 100 miles south of Shanghai. The aerial punch that developed forced the Nationalists from the Tachen Islands, midway between Shanghai and Formosa.

Now the Reds are building the next tier of bases farther south. Unless these bases are bombed and put out of commission they should make the Matsus untenable. The Matsus are 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

After those will come another tier which will challenge the air over Quemoy to the south, and the central strait. Finally another tier will put Red planes over the southern strait.

At present the Reds lack the capacity to attack Formosa, guarded by the U. S. 7th Fleet. Control of the air would give them that capacity.

Their small ships, junks and midget gunboats—insufficient now for invasion—then will be sufficient.

Dewey "Prayerfully" Hopes Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — Thomas E. Dewey, former governor of New York, said today he still hopes "prayerfully" that President Eisenhower will run for re-election.

Dewey had lunch with the President at the White House.

A reporter asked Dewey afterward whether it still looks to him as though the Republican ticket next year will be Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon again.

"Nothing has happened to change the opinion I expressed before," Dewey replied. "As I remember it, I said I prayerfully hoped the President will run again."

Employment Rose Half Million In March

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Employment rose over the nation by a half million in March. Unemployment declined 200,000.

Job gains represented definite improvement over last spring, when the number out of work reached a peak for the year. This was true even though the gains were largely seasonal, the usual result of better weather conditions.

Factory employment rose 160,000 in March, and there were increases in such outdoor activities as farming and construction.

The regular monthly report of the Commerce and Labor Departments put March employment at 60,477,000, up 539,000 from February. There were 60,100,000 employed in March a year ago.

Unemployment was 3,176,000, down 207,000 from February and 549,000 below the 3,725,000 in March 1954, which set a high for the year.

Actress Denied Maid By Hubby Granted Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Actress Anne Francis won a divorce today after testifying her husband said it was "important for my character" to do without a maid although, she said, she was working 12 hours a day at her studio.

Under a property agreement, Miss Francis was awarded one twin bed and her husband, Bamblet L. Price Jr., a film producer, the other. She asked no alimony, but was awarded $4,000 she said she loaned him.

Negro Ex-Jailer Held In Alleged Rape Of Prisoner

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., April 6 (AP)—A 58-year-old Negro jailer, dismissed from his job at the Prince Georges County Jail March 30, was charged today with raping a white woman murder suspect in her cell.

Sheriff J. Lee Ball identified the jailer as Walter C. Glover of Chapel Oaks, Md. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Anna Edith Vaughn, 34, who is held with her husband, Lloyd, for grand jury action on charges they murdered two of their children in infancy.

State's Atty. Blair Smith went before the grand jury this afternoon to seek an indictment naming Glover on the rape charge.

Sheriff Ball said both Glover and Mrs. Vaughn had signed statements and that Glover admitted having been intimate with Mrs. Vaughn on two occasions, both at her request.

The sheriff said the woman did not report the alleged attack for about 30 hours and an examination by the jail physician, Dr. James Sasscer, was negative.

Sheriff Ball said he was called to the jail March 30 by Chief Deputy Max Black who said Mrs. Vaughn wanted to talk to them. She told them, Ball said, that Glover had brought her a paper cup half full of whisky as a present on March 28 and returned on March 29 with another cup, half full, then raped her.

Sheriff Ball said he advised Mrs. Vaughn to "use her fingernails on his (Glover's) face" if he tried to molest her again and to hold any whisky as evidence.

Hailstones Kill, Drop Duck In Man's Yard

WEST, Tex., April 6 (AP)—Hailstones killed a wild duck over West and dropped it into the front yard of Buddy Kuykendall late last night.

Editor George Kostohryz of the West News said the hailstones were as big as baseballs. Windows were knocked out in the City Hall and in business concerns and homes.

Airliner Collision

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — A loaded airliner skidded on wet paving at National Airport today as it taxied up to the passenger ramp, slightly damaging its own wing and that of a parked plane.

The moving plane was a DC6B of National Airlines, just landed from Miami and West Palm Beach.

The second plane was a Martin 404 of Eastern Airlines. It was parked awaiting assignment to a run, without even a crew aboard.

Divorced Man's Accession To Britain's Highest Office Happy Omen For Princess?

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—A divorced man became the new Prime Minister of Britain today. To pretty Princess Margaret it may well have looked like a happy omen.

Reports persist that the vivacious, 24-year-old sister of the Queen wants to marry a divorced man—handsome World War II air ace Peter Townsend.

The accession of gray-haired Sir Anthony Eden to the highest office in the land is striking evidence of Britain's changing attitude toward divorce.

Twenty years ago a divorced man as prime minister would have been unthinkable. Today, the fact that Eden wiped out his first marriage to start afresh with the niece of Prime Minister Churchill hardly merited comment.

Eden's promotion to the prime ministership — effected by Queen Elizabeth alone — had the effect of final British recognition that divorce no longer need kill a man socially or professionally, provided he is not the party sued.

The cases of Eden and Townsend are similar. Both divorced their wives after World War I.. Both found favor at court before the divorce—and retained it afterward.

Townsend, 40, an air force group captain, now is living in Brussels. He was sent to a minor foreign service post there when reports of a romance with Princess Margaret first made world headlines two years ago.

Such a match would undoubtedly raise strong protests in ecclesiastical circles.

The Church of England—in which Queen Elizabeth exercises both spiritual and temporal authority—frowns on the remarriage of divorced persons when first partners are still living.

Princess Margaret will be 25 next Aug. 21. After that date she is free to marry whom she chooses without royal consent.

Integration Foe Is Fined $600

DOVER, Del., April 6 (AP)—Bryant W. Bowles, who shouts that Negroes will never go to school with his little girl, was fined $600 today for violating Delaware's school attendance laws.

The former Marine, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, said he will appeal to Kent County Superior Court.

The charges grew out of a boycott and disorders last September at Milford, Del., high school when 11 Negro pupils were enrolled in a school previously restricted to whites.

Bowles was accused of counseling parents to keep their children out of high school and with conspiring with parents to keep their children at home.

Judge A. B. Magee, sitting in common pleas court, fined Bowles $300 on each count and specified a six-month jail sentence on each if he fails to pay the fine.

Bowles has five days in which to file an appeal.

He denied he was responsible for the school boycott, saying he did not enter the dispute until it was under way and he was invited by Milford residents to join their campaign.

GE Executive Sees 44 A-Plants By 1975

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP)—A General Electric Co. executive predicted yesterday that by 1980 more than half of all new generating plants in the United States would be atomic.

Francis K. McCune, vice president and general manager of GE's Atomic Products Division, told the University of Pennsylvania's Institute of Investment Banking that the per cent of newly constructed atomic power plants will rise from 14 in 1970 to 44 by 1975.

"Even though nuclear plants will be increasing at a substantial rate," he said, "enough conventional plants will still be added so that requirements of these plants for coal will increase through 1980," he said.

Democrats Lead Five Mich. Races

DETROIT, April 6 (AP)—Late, seesawing unofficial returns from Monday's Michigan spring election today put Democrats ahead in five races and Republicans in three. Only two of 4,783 precincts are still out.

The GOP was sure of only one victory. Its margins were so thin in two races that Democrats conceded nothing.

Contests were so close that only official canvass or recount figures can name winners.

The margins in some were only 2,000 or even fewer votes in the million votes cast.

Republicans seemed certain only of victory for one Supreme Court seat. They led only slightly for superintendent of public instruction, and for a state Board of Education post.

The GOP usually wins Michigan spring elections, but Democrats campaigned hard in this one, trying to repeat last fall's state success.

Divorced Man's Accession To Britain's Highest Office Happy Omen For Princess?

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—A divorced man became the new Prime Minister of Britain today. To pretty Princess Margaret it may well have looked like a happy omen.

Reports persist that the vivacious, 24-year-old sister of the Queen wants to marry a divorced man—handsome World War II air ace Peter Townsend.

The accession of gray-haired Sir Anthony Eden to the highest office in the land is striking evidence of Britain's changing attitude toward divorce.

Twenty years ago a divorced man as prime minister would have been unthinkable. Today, the fact that Eden wiped out his first marriage to start afresh with the niece of Prime Minister Churchill hardly merited comment.

Eden's promotion to the prime ministership — effected by Queen Elizabeth alone — had the effect of final British recognition that divorce no longer need kill a man socially or professionally, provided he is not the party sued.

The cases of Eden and Townsend are similar. Both divorced their wives after World War I.. Both found favor at court before the divorce—and retained it afterward.

Townsend, 40, an air force group captain, now is living in Brussels. He was sent to a minor foreign service post there when reports of a romance with Princess Margaret first made world headlines two years ago.

Such a match would undoubtedly raise strong protests in ecclesiastical circles.

The Church of England—in which Queen Elizabeth exercises both spiritual and temporal authority—frowns on the remarriage of divorced persons when first partners are still living.

Princess Margaret will be 25 next Aug. 21. After that date she is free to marry whom she chooses without royal consent.

Integration Foe Is Fined $600

DOVER, Del., April 6 (AP)—Bryant W. Bowles, who shouts that Negroes will never go to school with his little girl, was fined $600 today for violating Delaware's school attendance laws.

The former Marine, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, said he will appeal to Kent County Superior Court.

The charges grew out of a boycott and disorders last September at Milford, Del., high school when 11 Negro pupils were enrolled in a school previously restricted to whites.

Bowles was accused of counseling parents to keep their children out of high school and with conspiring with parents to keep their children at home.

Judge A. B. Magee, sitting in common pleas court, fined Bowles $300 on each count and specified a six-month jail sentence on each if he fails to pay the fine.

Bowles has five days in which to file an appeal.

He denied he was responsible for the school boycott, saying he did not enter the dispute until it was under way and he was invited by Milford residents to join their campaign.

GE Executive Sees 44 A-Plants By 1975

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP)—A General Electric Co. executive predicted yesterday that by 1980 more than half of all new generating plants in the United States would be atomic.

Francis K. McCune, vice president and general manager of GE's Atomic Products Division, told the University of Pennsylvania's Institute of Investment Banking that the per cent of newly constructed atomic power plants will rise from 14 in 1970 to 44 by 1975.

"Even though nuclear plants will be increasing at a substantial rate," he said, "enough conventional plants will still be added so that requirements of these plants for coal will increase through 1980," he said.

Democrats Lead Five Mich. Races

DETROIT, April 6 (AP)—Late, seesawing unofficial returns from Monday's Michigan spring election today put Democrats ahead in five races and Republicans in three. Only two of 4,783 precincts are still out.

The GOP was sure of only one victory. Its margins were so thin in two races that Democrats conceded nothing.

Contests were so close that only official canvass or recount figures can name winners.

The margins in some were only 2,000 or even fewer votes in the million votes cast.

Republicans seemed certain only of victory for one Supreme Court seat. They led only slightly for superintendent of public instruction, and for a state Board of Education post.

The GOP usually wins Michigan spring elections, but Democrats campaigned hard in this one, trying to repeat last fall's state success.

Actress Denied Maid By Hubby Granted Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Actress Anne Francis won a divorce today after testifying her husband said it was "important for my character" to do without a maid although, she said, she was working 12 hours a day at her studio.

Under a property agreement, Miss Francis was awarded one twin bed and her husband, Bamblet L. Price Jr., a film producer, the other. She asked no alimony, but was awarded $4,000 she said she loaned him.

Liquor Industry Indicted On Price Fixing Charges

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—A large segment of the liquor industry was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of unlawful conspiracy to "raise, fix, maintain and stabilize wholesale and retail prices."

Named in the indictments, returned under anti-trust laws, were 54 defendants. They included 14 distillers, seven wholesalers, three trade associations and 31 individuals.

One count charged a conspiracy to boycott the Montgomery County County Department of Liquor Control and its county liquor store system.

Federal Judge Roszell C. Thomsen scheduled an arraignment under the indictments for May 6 after hearing a plea from government attorneys for early action.

The judge also signed an order calling for impounding a huge volume of corporate records of the liquor industry and its branches. The records already had been subpoenaed by the grand jury.

Trade associations named in the indictment were the Maryland State Licensed Beverage Assn., the Maryland Package Liquor Store Assn., Inc., and the Maryland Institute of Wine and Spirit Distributor, Inc.

Distillers indicted were National Distillers Products Corp., Joseph E. Seagram and Sons Inc., Distillers Distributing Corp., Hiram Walker and Sons Inc., Hiram Walker Inc., Gooderham and Worts, Ltd., James Barclay and Co. Ltd., Schenley Industries Inc., Schenley Distributors Inc., Melrose Dstillers Incm, Dant Distilling and Dsitributing Co., CVA Corp., McKesson and Robbins Inc., and Crosse and Blackwell Co.

Wholesalers were McCarthy-Hicks Inc., Churchill Ltd., the Kronheim Co. Inc., RWL Wine and Liquor Co. Inc., Reliable Liquors Inc., Gillett-Wright Inc., and the Madeira Bonded Wine and Liquor Co.

Most of the individuals indicted were officials of the various corporate defendants. Among them were John A. Menton and Lawrence Franklin of the Maryland State Licensed Beverage Assn., Jack Wulfert of the Maryland Package Liquor Stores Assn., and I. William Schimmel, executive secretary of the Wine and jspirits Institute.

The grand jury charged that the alleged conspiracy was carried out under "fair trade" pricing and that retailers were required to adhere to such pricing.

Attorney General Brownell said in a statement, however, that the alleged acts "were not to promote the purpose of either the Maryland Fair Trade Act or the Miller-Tydings and McGuire acts, but were a combination and conspiracy to raise, fix, maintain and stabilize prices."

Blast Wrecks Poultry Packing Plant Building

SALISBURY, April 6 (AP)—Exploding fumes in the refrigerating plant of one of the country's largest poultry processing plants wrecked one of its buildings today.

About 500 employes fled safely from the C. A. Swanson & Son Co. Two firemen received minor injuries.

George Melbourn, plant manager, estimated the damage at $100,000 and said the plant will be closed down at least until Monday.

John Nelson, plant engineer, said ammonia fumes in the refrigeration machinery apparently exploded, spreading fire through a building used mainly for the storage of supplies.

The resulting fire was brought under control in about an hour.

The storage and refrigeration building, near the center of the several structures which make up the plant, was wrecked. A 100-foot section of one wall was blown out or buckled. Part of the opposite wall also buckled. The roof was split open and a section of it burned away.

Fire Chief W. Austin Moore ordered his men out of the 172-by-80-foot brick building for fear the whole roof would collapse.

Moore was cut on the right hand. Fireman Edward Smith sprained an ankle.

Police Arrest Father Who Fled With Son

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Charles Joseph Smith, 33-year-old cab driver, was arrested in suburban Parkville today after a 12-hour hunt for him and his one-year-old son.

His estranged wife, Mrs. Margaret Smith, 35, accused him of breaking into her home at 1:30 a.m. today and taking the little boy away.

Police charged Smith with assault by striking.

The baby apparently was unharmed although he was wearing only a diaper and a pajama top when he was taken.

Mrs. Smith told police her husband smashed a glass pane in the front door in order to get into the house. She accused him of striking her before he grabbed the baby and ran.

State Slows Down Unique 12-Year Highway Program

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — The State Roads Commission announced today it had put $13,375,000 worth of new road work under contract in the first three months of 1955.

The figure represented a slowing down of the furious pace at which new projects were launched in 1954, the first year of Maryland's unique 12-year 568-million dollar highway overhaul program.

The slowing down in turn reflected a shift in the factors which govern the progress of what was called "the greatest long-range public works program Maryland has ever tackled."

In 1953 and 1954 the question was: How will the engineers ever draw plans and get rights-of-way fast enough to meet the construction schedule?

Now the question is: Where's the money to keep up with the engineers?

The 12-year program was designed in advance to slow down after the first year, as far as the commitment of money was concerned.

It called for the spending of 100 million by July 1, 1955, and only 48 million in the following year.

As of March 31, the commitments for construction, engineering and rights-of-way were already 105 million—with April, May and June still to go.

Carl L. Wannen, commission comptroller, pointed out today receipts from motor vehicle taxes and bond issues will provide barely enough cash to pay off contractors for work they complete between now and July 1.

Another 25 million dollar bond issue is contemplated in July. Wannen said it may have to be moved forward to June. Authorizing legislation passed in 1953 as part of the 12-year program allows for this. The Commission's fiscal experts have been hoping to avoid it, since it would mean extra interest costs and less money available for later years of the program.

Because of this situation, the commission is working on the basis that 148 million is the maximum it can commit up to July 1, 1956.

Since 105 million already is on the books, only 43 million is left for the next 15 months—less than 3 million a month for construction, engineering, and rights-of-way.

Through most of 1954 the commission authorized 6 to 8 million a month just in construction contracts.

There also are signs the 148 million ceiling for the first two years will come down.

The General Assembly postponed for one year an increase in license tag fees for automobiles.

This will take 2 to 3 million out of the 148-million program in the first two years of the 12-year plan.

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Baltimore's policemen today started going to school to learn how to drive safely.

Fined For Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Joseph Eber Coons, soft drink bottler and distributor at Hagerstown, Md., today was fined $5,000 costs for evading Federal income taxes.

Coons, who is 53, was indicted for evading taxes in 1945, 1946 and 1947. He did not contest the charge.

West Radio Broadcasts Have Influenced Many To Flee From Communist Nations

By ROGER D. GREENE

Although Russia spends an estimated 25 million dollars a year in trying to "jam" broadcasts by Western short wave stations, that country has no law against listening to such programs.

Nevertheless, when the Soviet citizen clicks on his radio and tunes in the West he has good reason to be nervous.

The Russian people know that if they get reputations for such activities they soon acquire the unhealthy status of "suspicious characters."

Agents of the secret police start looking into their affairs, and the comrade with a fondness for bebop or simply a nongovernment account of the news may soon find himself en route to Siberia.

Much the same situation applies to other countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Of how much value is the never-ending radio campaign beamed to Communist nations?

An estimated 9 to 11 million persons have fled the Communist orbit since World War II.

There is agreement that probably the largest percentage of refugees was motivated by a desire for economic improvement or oppression from their governments.

But it has been illustrated often and dramatically that the Western propaganda effort, especially radio broadcasts, has had a marked influence in many cases.

Last month Valery Alexandrovich Lysikov, 17-year-old son of a Russian Air Force officer, fled to the American sector of Berlin. He said he had been turned against communism by the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corp.

Last August Alfred Leiter, seaman on the Polish liner Batory, walked into a Copenhagen telephone booth, called Munich 28411 and asked for Jan Nowak, chief of Radio Free Europe's Polish desk.

After Leiter had been granted asylum, he told reporters he had obtained the number and Nowak's name from RFE broadcasts.

Similar testimonials to the effect of Western broadcasts have been told by thousands of refugees. They are backed up by numerous letters from listeners behind the Iron Curtain.

Repeated denunciation of the broadcasts by Communist government agencies and massive attempts at jamming also point up the effectiveness of radio as a propaganda weapon.

It is not, of course, a one-way weapon. Its capacity for reaching huge population groups has long been exploited by Communist nations in Europe and is now being seized upon by Red China.

In the past four years an estimated 10,000 Chinese school students have left their families in democratic zones of the Far East to return to Red China. A major factor is believed to have been the extolling of communism by velvet voiced women announcers of Radio Peiping.

The "Voice of the United Nations Command" (VUNC), which now beams counterpropaganda broadcasts from Tokyo, has its own women broadcasters — Lhanssa, who speaks Chinese and Mo-Ran, who broadcasts in Korean.

From Tokyo, VUNC beams its transmitters not only to a Japanese audience but to Korea and China.

The Voice of America operates powerful stations in Honolulu, Manila, Ceylon and Okinawa.

But the biggest of all overseas command posts in America's never ending war of words is Munich, Germany.

Three large radio operations are carried on from Munich. They are the government's Voice of America; Radio Free Europe, which is operated by The Crusade for Freedom; and Radio Liberation, sponsored by the American Committee for Liberation of the Peoples of Russia from Bolshevism.

Of the three, RFE is by far the largest. It uses 29 transmitters in West Germany and Portugal to beam its broadcasts to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. These satellites also are targets of the Voice of America, while Radio Liberation aims only at the peoples of Russia.

In addition, the U.S. government's RIAS (Radio in American Sector) broadcasts to 18 million persons under Communist rule in East Germany.

News of world events, religious news for all faiths, music, comedy, drama, forums and even quiz shows are beamed through the Iron Curtain from East and West.

The RFE program "How to Survive" offers advice on how to keep out of trouble with Communist governments. Another, "We Accuse", uses names and case histories in charging specific Communists with cruelty.

RFE has a file list of 65,000 Hungarians in all walks of life. It includes a blacklist of informers and agents, whose names are exposed in broadcasts. The station says many such informers have been dismissed after thus being exposed and rendered useless.

Envoy Leaves Vatican

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, April 6 (AP)—A high government source said today Argentina's ambassador to the Vatican is coming home.

He stated Ambassador Carlos Maria Oliva Paz will have a four-month vacation, but officials here believe he will not return to his post if tension continues beween President Peron's government and the Roman Catholic Church.

Rome Will Pour $16,600 Into Its Famous Fountain

ROME, April 6 (AP)—Remember the penny you threw into the Fountain of Trevi, like most other tourists, when you were in Rome?

The city is about to go you $16,599.99 better. The huge Travertine-sculptured fountain, most famous in Rome, will be boarded up for two months this fall and the city will pour 10 million lire—$16,600—into a general artistic overhaul and repair.

It may be a hard blow to tourists who want to make sure of returning to Rome, to girls who want a husband, and to the urchins of the midcity streets. The legend, told in novel and recent movie, is that tourists who toss a penny into the great fountain under Pietro Bracci's figure of Neptune are sure to come back to Rome.

Rome urchins harvest perhaps $100 a week in Italian and varied foreign coins by hand-dredging in the big basin late at night.

There's another legend that any girl who fills a never-used goblet with water from the fountain and offers it to the man of her heart is sure to win his love.

The waters of the fountain are probably the purest in Rome. They are fed from mountain springs down the ancient aqueducts that the statesman general Agrippa built in 19 B. C. for his baths near the Pantheon.

But the steady rush of water, and the erosion of plant growth, winds and the vibration of heavy city traffic have caused much damage to the fountain.

Pennsylvania Draws Uranium Prospectors

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 6 (AP)—A bumper crop of uranium hunters have been prospecting in Pennsylvania during the last six months and the State Geological Survey says their search might not be in vain.

Dr. Carlyle Gray, acting head of the survey, said he wouldn't be surprised if some commercial deposits of the precious material were found in Pennsylvania.

He added, however, that "it won't be as easy to find as in some Western states."

"More earth usually covers the uranium deposits in Pennsylvania than in the West. This makes the deposit harder to detect with a Geiger counter, he explained.

Another drawback is that in Pennsylvania all land for prospecting would have to either be bought or released. In the West you can just stake a claim on public land.

Scelba Is Misled By Sleep Shades

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Italian Prime Minister Mario Scelba, during his recent visit here, was disturbed by early morning light seeping through the windows at Blair House. Scelba and other members of his party were having trouble sleeping.

Washington Star society columnist Betty Beale said Ambassador Clare Booth Luce heard of the PM's a.m. predicament, and rushed over some black sleep shades. They're double black eyepatches.

Miss Beale said Scelba hadn't seen any of the shades before, and started to take them out with him. He thought there was some sort of a masquerade on the program, she said.

BANK TELLER LEAVES HOLDUP SCENE—Henry Bardenhagen, left in photos, teller at Chase Manhattan Bank, Woodside, Queens, branch, leaves holdup scene yesterday after police and other officials investigated the $305,243 holdup staged by four gunmen. Bardenhagen, New York police said, was waylaid by robbers as he left home and was forced to drive the men to the bank. After robbery, gunmen made getaway in a waiting car, police said. Bardenhagen looks down (left), peers over shoulder (center) and examines car (right) in which robbers rode to the bank with the teller. It was the biggest cash bank holdup in history.

West Radio Broadcasts Have Influenced Many To Flee From Communist Nations

By ROGER D. GREENE

Although Russia spends an estimated 25 million dollars a year in trying to "jam" broadcasts by Western short wave stations, that country has no law against listening to such programs.

Nevertheless, when the Soviet citizen clicks on his radio and tunes in the West he has good reason to be nervous.

The Russian people know that if they get reputations for such activities they soon acquire the unhealthy status of "suspicious characters."

Agents of the secret police start looking into their affairs, and the comrade with a fondness for bebop or simply a nongovernment account of the news may soon find himself en route to Siberia.

Much the same situation applies to other countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Of how much value is the never-ending radio campaign beamed to Communist nations?

An estimated 9 to 11 million persons have fled the Communist orbit since World War II.

There is agreement that probably the largest percentage of refugees was motivated by a desire for economic improvement or oppression from their governments.

Make the hip-walk exercise a daily habit so you can wear a contoured hip-belt that gives the lowered waistline look.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Dior has issued no dictums regarding whether to belt or not to belt. In fact he favors belts so much that he showed two at one time on several spring costumes . . . one just below the bosom to indicate an Empire line, and one around the hips. Others mark the crossbar of his new "A line" anywhere from ribs to hips.

We have always requested our Powers Models to wear the proper "under-props" under a sweater... the rounded, natural line is in much better taste than the extreme uplifted bra with pronounced line of separation. This year the sweaters worn as overblouses look most charming.

Because Dior has approved "the long torso look" with the higher flatter bustline, one of the newest spring belts is the contoured hip-belt. This below-the-belt belt which gives the lowered waistline look has about a three-to four-inch wide curved contour that clings to the figure like a glove.

Is your figure what you want it to be as a foundation for the new season's looks (check below for information about "Do You Meausure Up?") If your zone of interest center too much around the hipline, try this spot-reducing exercise, which Powers Girls know they can trust to keep their figures in shape. Sit erect—legs outstretched and arms forward at shoulder level. "Walk" five steps forward, then five backward, on buttocks. Continue for 5 minutes and increase "steps" each day until you get up to at least twenty.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow—Always be ready for guests.

'All-American' Rating Is Given To Alcohi Mirror

All-American rating was conferred on the Alcohi Mirror by the National Scholastic Press Association, according to word received by Miss Mary E. Murray, adviser, from Fred L. Kildow, director of the NSPA, yesterday.

"A very excellent paper of near professional quality," was the comment of the judges. The Mirror was entered in competition with publications from schools having an enrollment of 1400-2000.

The Allegany publication received the maximum score for news coverage, balance, treatment of copy and creativeness.

Special mention was made for the staff's outside news coverage which had a bearing on school life.

"Distinct and to the point," stated the judge in scoring news writing. "You do a superior job of editing."

Makeup of pages one and two was scored superior, while mention was made of editorials and features which were "of excellent quality."

Editor-in-chief is Peggy Frith, assisted by Sondra DeVore, Renee Schwartz, Shirlie Hupp, Dorothy Ludman, Wilma Schry, Ellie Beneman, Linda Everhart and Childre Bridges, assistant editors. Members of the journalism class make up the reportorial staff.

Make the hip-walk exercise a daily habit so you can wear a contoured hip-belt that gives the lowered waistline look.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Dior has issued no dictums regarding whether to belt or not to belt. In fact he favors belts so much that he showed two at one time on several spring costumes . . . one just below the bosom to indicate an Empire line, and one around the hips. Others mark the crossbar of his new "A line" anywhere from ribs to hips.

We have always requested our Powers Models to wear the proper "under-props" under a sweater... the rounded, natural line is in much better taste than the extreme uplifted bra with pronounced line of separation. This year the sweaters worn as overblouses look most charming.

Because Dior has approved "the long torso look" with the higher flatter bustline, one of the newest spring belts is the contoured hip-belt. This below-the-belt belt which gives the lowered waistline look has about a three-to four-inch wide curved contour that clings to the figure like a glove.

Is your figure what you want it to be as a foundation for the new season's looks (check below for information about "Do You Meausure Up?")? If your zone of interest center too much around the hipline, try this spot-reducing exercise, which Powers Girls know they can trust to keep their figures in shape. Sit erect—legs outstretched and arms forward at shoulder level. "Walk" five steps forward, then five backward, on buttocks. Continue for 5 minutes and increase "steps" each day until you get up to at least twenty.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Smoke Bombs Used To Save Fruit Crop

Smoke bombs were used in some sections of Washington County Tuesday in an effort to save the peach crop from freezing and a light frost.

The smoke bomb, the use of which in fruit orchards during low temperature periods is comparatively new, is put off at dawn when temperatures drop below freezing. The bombs cause dense clouds of smoke which hang over the orchards for an hour or more, blotting out the warm rays of the sun. It has been discovered that often it is the sudden thawing of the frozen buds that kills the fruit. Permitted to thaw slowly, the fruit buds often survive. The smoke from the bomb is designed to permit this slow thaw.

In the Hancock orchards, the temperature dipped to a low of 25 degrees, considered at or near the danger point, especially to peach buds.

Dr. Benjamin Rogers, a member of the staff of the University of Maryland laboratory at Hancock checked peach buds in the orchards in that area to see if there were any signs of either freeze or frost damage.

It was believed that the temperature in most of the orchards at higher altitudes than the fruit laboratory, had higher temperatures than the 25 registered on the laboratory thermometer.

Peach buds are not yet open and are only showing pink in the Smithsburg and Hancock areas. They can usually take a temperature as low as 27 or 28 at this period without any appreciable damage. A heavy frost, however, accompanying the freeze, will often play havoc with peach buds at this stage.

While no smudge pots were lighted in the Hancock area, they are ready to be pressed into service to raise temperatures in orchards should there be a warning of extremely cold weather from the Weather Bureau.

City Directory Work Under Way

R. L. Polk and Company, publisher of Cumberland's city directory, has passed the halfway mark in preparation for the new issue.

Bernard Cannon, company representative here the past seven years, said crews are canvassing the city and have been for four weeks. The job is expected to be completed in about three weeks.

Reliable crews are making the door-to-door canvass, Cannon said. If no one is home, the information card is left and the householder requested to mail it back to the directory office in Allegany Inn. If this fails, a second call is made and then a third effort by mailing a card to the address.

Cooperation with the crews is requested to speed work and allow as near complete a directory as possible.

Coal Firm Defendant In Damage Suit

The Barrelville Community Water Company yesterday filed a suit for $5,000 damages against John Clites, coal mine operator, for allegedly contaminating the stream which had supplied that town with its water supply.

The plaintiff, represented by Attorney James S. Getty, claims the water company had received a supply of water from a mountain stream outside the community which was of a good quality for domestic use.

Clites, the suit asserts, operates a coal mine along the stream above the reservoir where the company had impounded its supply. His duties, it was pointed out, were to conduct his mining operations so as not to interfere with the quality of the water in the stream.

Instead, the water company claims, Clites allowed and permitted the stream to become contaminated and polluted with mine water, garbage and manure from his mine stable, rendering the water supply unfit for domestic use.

The suit further points out that the water company was ordered by the State Health Department to find another supply of water and that it was forced to drill a well, erect a pump house, purchase a pump and incurred other obligations for equipping the reservoir.

Deer Law Case Decision Is Reversed

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley clarified a section of the state law on deer hunting in an appeal case from Magistrate Charles Z. Zeller, of Grantsville, heard in the Garrett County Circuit Court last week.

Judge Fraley reversed the decision of Magistrate Zeller. Last December 14, at a hearing before the magistrate, game wardens charged Gerald McKenzie with hunting for a second deer after he had already checked a deer at the Grantsville checking station on opening day of the season.

Counsel for the defendant contended at that time that the state had not proven McKenzie had killed the first deer, and Magistrate Zeller gave a verdict of not guilty. The state then appealed to the Circuit Court.

Judge Fraley, in handing down a decision on the appeal, ruled that when a hunter checks a deer and permits the animal to be tagged with his name it is prima facie evidence that he admits killing the deer. The law does not permit a hunter to kill more than one deer per season, Judge Fraley added.

A fine of $100 and costs against McKenzie were suspended by Judge Fraley, since it was a test case and heretofore the law had not been clarified.

The game wardens took the appeal so that a ruling could be obtained from Circuit Court because if the magistrate's decision had been left standing it would have seriously affected the present deer law.

The plaintiff, represented by Attorney James S. Getty, claims the water company had received a supply of water from a mountain stream outside the community which was of a good quality for domestic use.

Clites, the suit asserts, operates a coal mine along the stream above the reservoir where the company had impounded its supply. His duties, it was pointed out, were to conduct his mining operations so as not to interfere with the quality of the water in the stream.

Instead, the water company claims, Clites allowed and permitted the stream to become contaminated and polluted with mine water, garbage and manure from his mine stable, rendering the water supply unfit for domestic use.

The suit further points out that the water company was ordered by the State Health Department to find another supply of water and that it was forced to drill a well, erect a pump house, purchase a pump and incurred other obligations for equipping the reservoir.

Deer Law Case Decision Is Reversed

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley clarified a section of the state law on deer hunting in an appeal case from Magistrate Charles Z. Zeller, of Grantsville, heard in the Garrett County Circuit Court last week.

Judge Fraley reversed the decision of Magistrate Zeller. Last December 14, at a hearing before the magistrate, game wardens charged Gerald McKenzie with hunting for a second deer after he had already checked a deer at the Grantsville checking station on opening day of the season.

Counsel for the defendant contended at that time that the state had not proven McKenzie had killed the first deer, and Magistrate Zeller gave a verdict of not guilty. The state then appealed to the Circuit Court.

Judge Fraley, in handing down a decision on the appeal, ruled that when a hunter checks a deer and permits the animal to be tagged with his name it is prima facie evidence that he admits killing the deer. The law does not permit a hunter to kill more than one deer per season, Judge Fraley added.

A fine of $100 and costs against McKenzie were suspended by Judge Fraley, since it was a test case and heretofore the law had not been clarified.

The game wardens took the appeal so that a ruling could be obtained from Circuit Court because if the magistrate's decision had been left standing it would have seriously affected the present deer law.

Stock Market Scores Slight Gain In Spite Of Late Selling

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — The stock market managed to eke out an advance today in the face of late selling.

Gains and losses usually covered a range of around 2 points but some stocks were well outside those limits. Steels led the rise but suffered somewhat in the late selling as did all major divisions.

Airlines were a strong late feature while also higher were the utilities, motors, coppers, motion pictures, chemicals and railroads. The rest of the market, including aircrafts, was mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $160.80. That is only $1.80 away from the historic peak reached March 4. The three components of the average advanced — industrials 30 cents, and utilities 10 cents.

New York Central was at the top of the most active list up ¾ at 38⅞ on 42,500 shares. It was sixth most active yesterday.

Pepsi-Cola, first yesterday, was second today up ⅝ at 21⅞, and it was followed by Jones & Laughlin up g at 38⅝, Avco Mfg. unchanged at 7⅜, and Servel up¼ at 8⅝.

Babcock & Wilcox, which has been strong recently on news of its activities in the atomic power field, lost 4¾ at 103 today. The drop followed a statement at the annual meeting that any considerable profit from nuclear power was in the future.

Bethlehem Steel, up 5¼ at 137½ yesterday, moved on up today to a high of 140, but it lost out in the final hour and closed off ⅜ at 137⅛.

Trial Scheduled In Auto Mishap

Two drivers will be given a hearing early next week on state motor charges resulting from an automobile collision last Friday night on Wineow Street.

Defendants are Theodore E. Bridges, Flintstone, and William E. Bowman, 119 Blaul Avenue. A hearing scheduled for last Saturday was continued.

Bridges pleaded guilty but later reversed his plea, Magistrate J. Milton Dick said. Bowman had denied the charges.

To Get Half Holiday

City employes will receive a half-day holiday Good Friday instead of a full day as previously reported. Departments will close at noon tomorrow and remain closed until the regular opening time at 9 a. m. Monday.

RC Drive Is Short Of Goal

Returns in the lagging Red Cross campaign are still coming in very slowly. Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman, reports the goal of $37,000 is still nearly $6,500 short. Complete tabulations yesterday showed a total of $30,536.79 received or pledged.

"We are hopeful," says Ebert, "that our drive will be carried over the top by last-minute contributions from those who have not yet decided to support this year's Red Cross campaign." He observes that a few industries and business firms have not yet responded to the plea, and that many professional and business leaders are still to be heard from.

"If these firms and individuals, plus every office, store and factory worker not yet a Red Cross member would add their contributions to the total, we could complete our solicitation overnight," Ebert added.

The full $37,000 is necessary to continue the blood bank program, which was added to the other Red Cross services only three years ago.

Those wishing to make contributions are asked to mail them to Red Cross, Post Office, Cumberland.

Trial Scheduled In Auto Mishap

Two drivers will be given a hearing early next week on state motor charges resulting from an automobile collision last Friday night on Wineow Street.

Defendants are Theodore E. Bridges, Flintstone, and William E. Bowman, 119 Blaul Avenue. A hearing scheduled for last Saturday was continued.

Bridges pleaded guilty but later reversed his plea, Magistrate J. Milton Dick said. Bowman had denied the charges.

To Get Half Holiday

City employes will receive a half-day holiday Good Friday instead of a full day as previously reported. Departments will close at noon tomorrow and remain closed until the regular opening time at 9 a. m. Monday.

RC Drive Is Short Of Goal

Returns in the lagging Red Cross campaign are still coming in very slowly. Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman, reports the goal of $37,000 is still nearly $6,500 short. Complete tabulations yesterday showed a total of $30,536.79 received or pledged.

"We are hopeful," says Ebert, "that our drive will be carried over the top by last-minute contributions from those who have not yet decided to support this year's Red Cross campaign." He observes that a few industries and business firms have not yet responded to the plea, and that many professional and business leaders are still to be heard from.

"If these firms and individuals, plus every office, store and factory worker not yet a Red Cross member would add their contributions to the total, we could complete our solicitation overnight," Ebert added.

The full $37,000 is necessary to continue the blood bank program, which was added to the other Red Cross services only three years ago.

Those wishing to make contributions are asked to mail them to Red Cross, Post Office, Cumberland.

Sybert Believes Md. Tax Program "Validly Passed"

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert said tonight that after "careful and mature consideration" it's his opinion that tax program approved in the hectic last hours of the General Assembly early Tuesday morning was "validly passed."

He said he will so inform Gov. McKeldin in a formal opinion tomorrow.

There had been some speculation about maneuvering of House and Senate in the closing hours during which the bill to raise the taxes to balance Gov. McKeldin's 269 million dollar budget were passed. But Sybert was on hand to watch over the legal angles and he told the legislators at the time he felt their actions were legal.

ested in large contributions. Most of the contributions are for $1. She observed comparatively few of the 22,000 county residents who were sent Easter Seals have contributed to the drive.

About 900 sheets of the seals were returned by the prospective donors and another 700 sheets were returned because the Post Office was unable to deliver them. Of the more than 20,000 others, fewer than 3,000 have sent in contributions. National average for such campaigns is about one in three, or about 7,000 contributions.

A number of organizations in the county are assisting the campaign by selling paper nache Easter lillies. Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will sell the lilies Saturday on Baltimore Street. Last Saturday Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, sold the lillies and collected about $117 for the Easter Seal campaign.

In Frostburg, members of the Moose lodge there will sell the Easter lilies as will members of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, in Lonaconing Saturday.

Navy Recruiters Assigned Quota Of 16 In April

A quota of 16 applicants has been assigned the local Navy recruiting station for the month of April. Chief Quartermaster Edward Carey, recruiter in charge, said yesterday.

Of this number of enlistees, five are for the Navy's high school program which assures applicants an opportunity to further their education by attending a service school after recruit training of nine weeks at Bainbridge.

To qualify for this program only male applicants are eligible. They must have no prior service in any branch of the armed forces. Each applicant must present proof that he is a high school graduate or that he has completed eight grades satisfactorily and then had four years in a technical vocational school.

The five high school program recruits include three in the field of electronics, one for hospital work and one to be assigned as an airman recruit.

Chief Carey also noted that no quota is assigned the local station for women recruits, but eligible applicants will be considered for enlistment in the WAVE.

Three men have been accepted this month for enlistment. They are Warren Foster Johnson, 18, of 1008 Glenwood Street, for four years; Ronald Stanford Lewis, 17, of Mt. Lake Park, and Larry Tim Smith, 20 Arch Street, for minority periods. These men left for basic training at Bainbridge.

Woman To Face Perjury Charge

Mrs. Carrie Virginia Mills of Rawlings has been charged with perjury in a criminal information filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Fletcher said the woman is accused of committing perjury in falsely swearing that her 13-year-old daughter, Shirley Jean, was 17 so she could obtain a marriage license. The girl was married last Christmas Eve to Carl William Bucklew, according to the records in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Police Probe Crash On W. Va. Route 28

West Virginia State Police at Romney last night were investigating a wreck along Route 28 between Springfield and Fort Ashby.

When police arrived on the scene, the driver or passengers in the car could not be located. The auto had crashed down over an embankment and into a nearby run. The car was badly damaged.

The ambulance of the Fort Ashby Volunteer Fire Company also reported to the scene.

A check of local hospitals showed that no one had been brought in for medical attention. The mishap happened about 9 p.m. Full details were not learned last night. Investigating is Trooper Gerald Phillips of Romney.

249 Apply For New Liquor Licenses

Some 249 applications for new alcoholic beverage licenses effective May 1 have been filed with the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Among the applicants are 132 for beer only, 18 for beer and wine, 62 for beer, wine and liquor and 37 for club-type beer, wine and liquor licenses.

Gets Sorority Post

Miss Shirley Lee Brinkman, 1005 Virginia Avenue, recently was elected social chairman of the Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta national sorority at West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert E. Brinkman, a graduate of Fort Hill High School and at Wesleyan is active in the choir.

Teacher Pay Bill Passes

Both the House and the Senate approved a mandatory pay increase for Allegany County teachers before winding up their 1955 deliberations this week.

The measure, introduced by the county delegation in the House, provides a $300 boost this fall, another $100 in 1956, and another $100 in 1957.

Gov. McKeldin signed into law Sen. Clifford Friend's bill (SB 182) changing the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds, and to permit allowance for accumulations of cinders, snow and ice in figuring overloads.

The governor also signed HB 3 clarifying sections of the child adoption laws relating to Allegany and Garrett counties.

Del. Harry C. Edwards' bill providing for a restudy of the Allegany-Garrett boundary line received approval of both houses.

House Resolution 133, introduced by the Allegany and Frederick delegations, paid tribute to Mrs. Margielea Stonestreet See, wife of Charles M. See, head of the Allegany delegation, for her services as a reader for the two blind delegates in the House.

Of the more than 20,000 others, fewer than 3,000 have sent in contributions. National average for such campaigns is about one in three, or about 7,000 contributions.

A number of organizations in the county are assisting the campaign by selling paper snache Easter lillies. Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will sell the lilies Saturday on Baltimore Street. Last Saturday Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, sold the lillies and collected about $117 for the Easter Seal campaign.

In Frostburg, members of the Moose lodge there will sell the Easter lilies as will members of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, in Lonaconing Saturday.

Navy Recruiters Assigned Quota Of 16 In April

A quota of 16 applicants has been assigned the local Navy recruiting station for the month of April. Chief Quartermaster Edward Carey, recruiter in charge, said yesterday.

Of this number of enlistees, five are for the Navy's high school program which assures applicants an opportunity to further their education by attending a service school after recruit training of nine weeks at Bainbridge.

To qualify for this program only male applicants are eligible. They must have no prior service in any branch of the armed forces. Each applicant must present proof that he is a high school graduate or that he has completed eight grades satisfactorily and then had four years in a technical vocational school.

The five high school program recruits include three in the field of electronics, one for hospital work and one to be assigned as an airman recruit.

Chief Carey also noted that no quota is assigned the local station for women recruits, but eligible applicants will be considered for enlistment in the WAVE.

Three men have been accepted this month for enlistment. They are Warren Foster Johnson, 18, of 1008 Glenwood Street, for four years; Ronald Stanford Lewis, 17, of Mt. Lake Park, and Larry Tim Smith, 20 Arch Street, for minority periods. These men left for basic training at Bainbridge.

Woman To Face Perjury Charge

Mrs. Carrie Virginia Mills of Rawlings has been charged with perjury in a criminal information filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Fletcher said the woman is accused of committing perjury in falsely swearing that her 13-year-old daughter, Shirley Jean, was 17 so she could obtain a marriage license. The girl was married last Christmas Eve to Carl William Bucklew, according to the records in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Police Probe Crash On W. Va. Route 28

West Virginia State Police at Romney last night were investigating a wreck along Route 28 between Springfield and Fort Ashby.

When police arrived on the scene, the driver or passengers in the car could not be located. The auto had crashed down over an embankment and into a nearby run. The car was badly damaged.

The ambulance of the Fort Ashby Volunteer Fire Company also reported to the scene.

A check of local hospitals showed that no one had been brought in for medical attention. The mishap happened about 9 p.m. Full details were not learned last night. Investigating is Trooper Gerald Phillips of Romney.

Teacher Pay Bill Passes

Both the House and the Senate approved a mandatory pay increase for Allegany County teachers before winding up their 1955 deliberations this week.

The measure, introduced by the county delegation in the House, provides a $300 boost this fall, another $100 in 1956, and another $100 in 1957.

Gov. McKeldin signed into law Sen. Clifford Friend's bill (SB 182) changing the minimum weight of trucks to their registered weights in overload cases instead of 5,000 pounds, and to permit allowance for accumulations of cinders, snow and ice in figuring overloads.

The governor also signed HB 3 clarifying sections of the child adoption laws relating to Allegany and Garrett counties.

Del. Harry C. Edwards' bill providing for a restudy of the Allegany-Garrett boundary line received approval of both houses.

House Resolution 133, introduced by the Allegany and Frederick delegations, paid tribute to Mrs. Margielea Stonestreet See, wife of Charles M. See, head of the Allegany delegation, for her services as a reader for the two blind delegates in the House.

Sunrise Service Planned Here Sunday

The Easter sunrise service Sunday at 6:30 a. m. at Fort Hill High School auditorium is being sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association with Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, as chairman.

Scenery for the program is being arranged under the chairmanship of Rev. Frederick J. Eckert, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. The a capella choir of Fort Hill High and the ministers of the various churches will form a procession and enter the auditorium following an organ-piano prelude and the trumpeters have soundeo a fanfare.

The congregation will stand as the procession enters and sing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name." The Tri-Hi-Y members of Allegany High School will be ushers.

Robert H. Mann Jr., and Miss Carole Reith will be organist and pianist for the program. Two numbers will be sung by the a cappella choir, "King of Kings" and "He Is Risen."

John Hager will sing "The Son of God" and "The Resurrection Morn." Trumpeters for the program will be Frank Byer, Miss Peggy Ann Frith, Raymond Ogden and Thomas Ward. They will play "Hallelujah for the Cross."

Rev. H. E. Heckert, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, will deliver the Easter message on "The Dawn of Glory." The Clergy Choir will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" under the direction of Rev. Raymond A. Faulds Jr., pastor of Zion Reformed Church.

The congregation will join in a responsive reading and the singing of "Christ Arose."

Scrap Metal Dealer Placed On Probation

Pearl Brooks, 451 Pine Avenue, local scrap metal dealer who appealed a 90-day jail sentence on a charge of receiving stolen goods, had his sentence suspended Monday and was placed on probation for one year by Magistrate Morris Baron.

Brooks pleaded guilty to receiving stolen B&O goods of a value of $100 when tried by Baron March 8 in Trial Magistrates Court.

His attorney, Edward J. Ryan, appealed the sentence several days later but dismissed the appeal and Baron suspended the sentence. Brooks had been released on $500 bond pending the appeal.

• Litter And Rubbish Should Be Eliminated

Nothing makes a community appear slovenly or gives the impression of "We don't care" so much as litter, debris and rubbish scattered over the streets, sidewalks and highways.

From time to time we have editorialized about the importance of cleaning up so we naturally were pleased with the charge delivered to the grand jury on Monday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Judge Harris pointed out to the grand jurors some rubbish-littered spots in the county and advised them that there are sufficient laws on the books to effect a clean-up.

Of course, aside from the bad appearance and poor impression caused by the rubbish, there is the even worse fault of being a hazard to good health.

Evidently the trouble is not alone one of Allegany County's. There is a national organization, Keep America Beautiful, and a state group, Keep Maryland Beautiful. Both are concentrating their efforts on cleaning up roadsides and are directing their attack on "litter-bugs," people who, without thinking, throw litter out of moving automobiles.

We have this trouble, too, in Allegany County, perhaps to a lesser degree than some of the more heavily populated metropolitan areas, but enough of it exists to merit looking into it and cleaning it up.

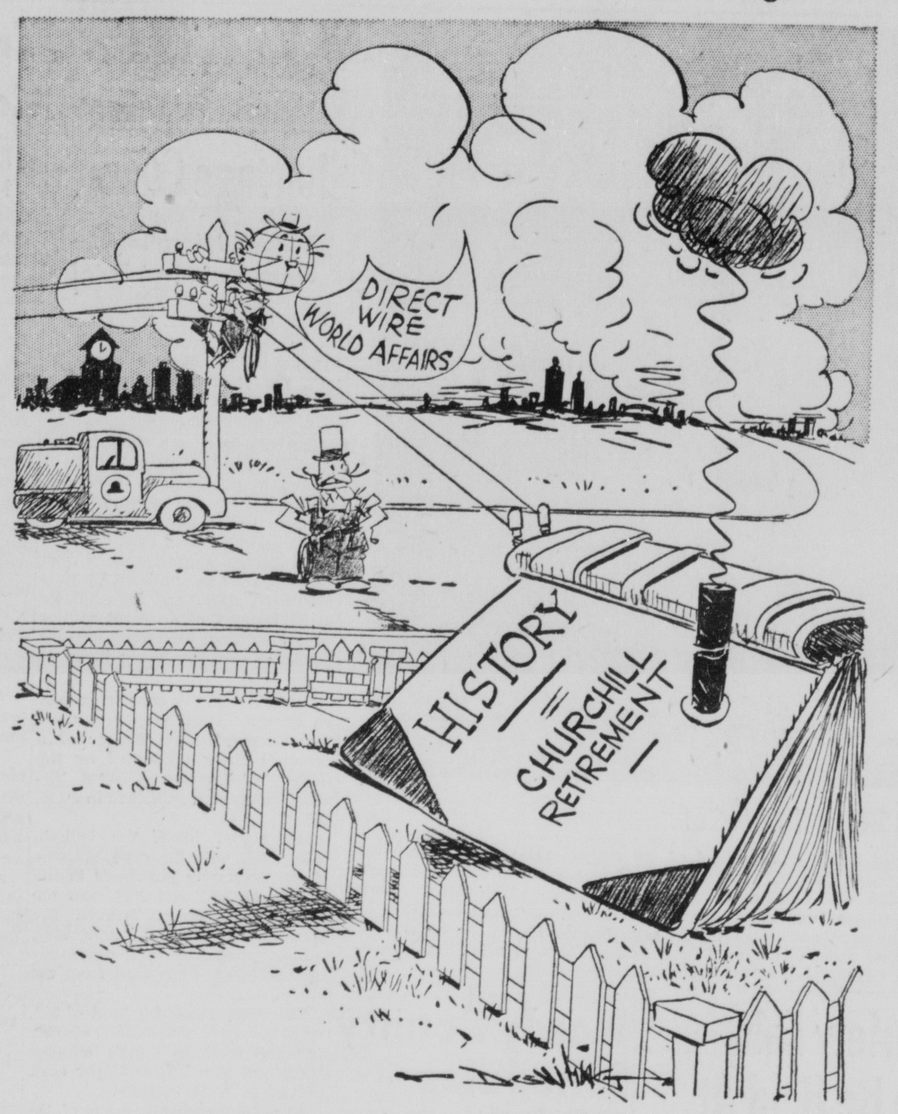
Rubbish dumped along highways and county roads, as Judge Harris pointed out in his charge to the grand jury, certainly creates an eyesore and a health hazard and is even more of a problem.

Much of this, no doubt, is due to carelessness, but the person who dumps the first pile of junk either deliberately or unwittingly invites others to follow suit.

Nonetheless, all of this dumping and littering of public highways with trash or rubbish is a violation of the law and should be stopped.

A statewide cleanup period has been set for April 22-30 and we hope all of our readers will do their part in keeping Allegany County beautiful. Let's not destroy our scenery with litter and rubbish piles.

Will Someone Answer The Phone If It Rings?



Navy Secretary Turns Down Present Of F. D. Roosevelt's Old Sailing Sloop

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When Armand Hammer, the collector of Black Angus and King Farouk's Egyptian trophies, acquired Campobello, old homestead of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he also acquired some of the late president's prized possessions.

Campobello is the summer home in Nova Scotia where FDR's mother took her family for years and where the late president was stricken with polio after he dived into cold Canadian water following an exhausting set of tennis.

One of the late president's most prized possessions at Campobello was a sloop which he sailed through Nova Scotia waters as a young man. This was how he first acquired the nautical experience which he later used as assistant secretary of the Navy. Roosevelt cherished the sloop and kept it long after his illness, plus the press of presidential duties made it impossible for him to sail it.

When Hammer bought the Campobello estate from Elliott Roosevelt (who incidentally sold it over the heads of other members of the family) Hammer gave the sloop to FDR's eldest son, Congressman James Roosevelt.

And Congressman Roosevelt offered the sloop to the secretary of the Navy, Charles Thomas, as a gift to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

"It occurs to me that the sloop might be of value to the midshipmen," Jimmy said, "not only in their training, but perhaps sentimentally as having once been used by a former assistant secretary of the Navy."

But the Navy, which FDR loved and which he helped to build up to be the most powerful in the world, turned the gift down.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas didn't even bother to reply personally. He sent word through his aide that the sloop would cost $600 to repair and the economy-minded Eisenhower administration couldn't afford the money.

Merry-Go-Round

Colleagues are twitting the Senate's oldest bachelor, 87-year-old Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, about his "newest love," Mrs. Carter Glass, widow of the late senator from Virginia. Senator Green, who looks as if he would surpass all-time records for age in the Senate, still walks three miles to work every morning, but complains the doctors want him to quit wrestling—once his favorite exercise. . . . Another great walker is Justice William O. Douglas, who walks about 15 to 20 miles every Sunday. Last week he started at 34th Street in Georgetown, walked up the C&O Canal, 17 miles in exactly five hours and 40 minutes. . . . In wartime, if the infantry makes 20 miles a day, it's really traveling. . . . Senator and Mrs. Fulbright of Arkansas are one couple who look as if they really enjoy dancing together. . . . Congratulations to the Youngstown Vindicator for cracking open the peculiar Bethlehem Steel deal by which $6,000,000 of employes' pension money was used in a maneuver to acquire Youngstown Steel and Tube.

Shush! It's Secret!

The Defense Department isn't the only place which suddenly invokes top-level secrecy on dust-covered information the public and the taxpayers have a right to know about.

While Defense officials were suddenly and belatedly stamping "top secret" on General MacArthur's 10-year-old war papers after he claimed he hadn't wanted Russian help in defeating Japan, the Labor Department was doing the same thing with another set of papers.

Quite recently the Labor Department announced that it had blacklisted 20 contractors from getting government contracts because they had violated the Davis-Bacon Act. This requires government contractors to pay prevailing wages in the area where they're working, and Secretary of Labor Mitchell made a braggadocio announcement that Eisenhower was protecting labor by cracking down on 20 contractors who cut wages.

However, when this column wanted the dates when the crack-downs started, the Labor Department, hitherto seeking publicity, suddenly shut up like a clam. These dates, it was stated, were super-duper-ultra top secret.

Reason for the secrecy was simple. The crack-downs against wage-cutters actually started under Harry Truman and because the new Republican administration was trying to take credit for what began as early as the administration of the late Maurice Tobin, secretary of labor under Truman.

Politics Vs. Common Sense

Caught in the same predicament as the Defense Department regarding the MacArthur papers, the Labor Department went to unusual lengths to hush up the dates when the blacklisting of government contractors actually started.

At first John Leslie, Labor Department press spokesman, said that the dates were public information. After all, no war secrets were involved. Proceedings against a builder, he indicated, are like a court prosecution or an immigration hearing.

Mr. Leslie, however, was naive. He was applying common sense, not politics, to his job. Very quickly his superiors reversed him. Stuart Rothman, labor solicitor, and one of the top men under Secretary Mitchell, emphatically said "no!"

"I don't consider these dates public information," he said in reply to a request from this column.

"Why?"

"It would be unfair to the parties involved."

"How would that be? We already have the names of the contractors and the dates when they were blacklisted. You published that yourself. All we want is the date when the wage violation occurred."

"That is not public information."

"In just what way would it be unfair?"

"I have nothing more to say. The information is not public."

NOTE—Amazing part of this head-in-sand policy is that Rothman didn't seem to know that labor union executives who lodged the protests with the Labor Department have kept the dates when the wage violations occurred. They were all pre-Eisenhower.

Attempt To Smear MacArthur Not Likely To Succeed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Attempts to smear General MacArthur with the tragic guilt of the Roosevelt surrender at Yalta to Stalin's demands for concessions are not likely to succeed. For the truth is the general had no part in recommending that any concessions be made at Yalta to win Russian participation in the war against Japan.

Extracts from any records prior to Yalta purporting to show that the Far Eastern commander did recommend Russian participation are not available for the simple reason that there are none.

Within the last few days various persons have been quoted as saying that General MacArthur favored Russian participation and had made plans based on that assumption. But every one of the extracts cited is dated after the Yalta conference, when all commanders who learned about the Russian military help that was to be forthcoming discussed it on that basis.

Evidence Demolished

The report got started that General MacArthur was instrumental in the decisions made at Yalta when the Yalta papers came out recently. Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, spoke on this point and insisted that some of the decisions of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff on which President Roosevelt relied were influenced by General MacArthur.

To support that contention, two things have been offered in evidence. One is an entry in the diary of the late James Forrestal, who was secretary of the Navy and had visited the Philippines where the alleged conversation relative to possible Russian participation took place. Another item was an article in The Reporter magazine by Louis Morton, an Army historian who has asserted that MacArthur was "perfectly willing" to make concessions to get Stalin to attack Japan.

Both pieces of evidence have been demolished. The Forrestal item was negated by General Courtney Whitney, aide to General MacArthur, who pointed out that the notation was not in Forrestal's handwriting and that there were obvious inaccuracies as to time and place where the secretary of the Navy did meet the Far Eastern commander.

The other rebuttal came in a citation from the book written by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, who accompanied Secretary Forrestal on that same trip and was present during the discussion to which reference was made in the diary. The book was published in 1951 and the extract in question makes no reference to Russian participation and shows that the whole discussion took place after the Yalta conference. The book says General MacArthur predicted then that the Pacific war would came to an end within six months, namely in 1945. That was contrary to the thinking in the Navy, which was that the war would go on for 18 months.

Only Natural

Another article in the news has been the publication of a communique issued in August 1945, when General MacArthur welcomed Russia into the war. But this was several months after the conference at Yalta, and it was natural for the Far Eastern commander to issue such a statement when a new ally was entering the war.

Still another quotation has been publicized concerning General MacArthur's views in 1945. It appears that General George A. Lincoln conferred with General MacArthur in the Philippines and, under date of February 25, 1945, sent a message to General Marshall saying that the Far Eastern commander had declared "planning should start at once." This related to possible invasion of Japan and suggested that "as many Japanese divisions as possible should be pinned down on the mainland, principally by Soviet forces."

This date — February 25, 1945 — is about 14 days after the Yalta conference ended. Obviously, when General MacArthur learned definitely for the first time that Russia was coming into the war, he began saying that "planning should start at once."

But this is a far cry from the claim that the general knew about Yalta in advance or recommended the course taken there. The official records of all messages are in the Pentagon, but General Courtney Whitney made copies of all important messages for his own records and he has issued a statement saying there is no such evidence in the Pentagon. MacArthur can't be blamed for Roosevelt's blunder at Yalta.

Historic Accuracy

I picked out of the Syracuse Daily Orange an item concerning a lecturer, Paul Harris, who is reported to have said:

"The Alger Hiss case is not closed. I am 90 per cent certain, now not 100 per cent, but 90 per cent certain that the Hiss case is not closed. I have talked to people close to this and I'm pretty sure that in later years it will come to light that Alger Hiss did what he did . . . to cover up for someone who was mentally incapable of making decisions."

This curious comment leads nowhere in particular because it does not indicate who was "mentally incapable of making decisions." It might have been a male or a female; a public official or a relative; or it could be no one at all—just a guess. Nor is the comment of the slightest importance because whatever Alger Hiss did, he did by choice, as all humans, not captive, do. And he has been to prison for it and is now free.

What would be of real value would be a complete and truthful memoire by Hiss on his relations to our failure at Yalta and to the direction of our China policy which have brought on such disastrous consequences. Hiss can well afford to be truthful now. He has served such a sentence as a court determined upon and that, under our system, frees him from his past. There can be no double jeopardy.

But what Hiss knows is of historic significance. Too many people want history suppressed because they look so stupid in its pages. Yet the fill-in on Yalta and the China policy is necessary if the history of these events is ever to be written accurately. The prospects for such accuracy are today not too good.

An example of controversy which will puzzle the future historian is the role of General Douglas MacArthur. Since his return to this country after his dismissal by President Truman, General MacArthur in public statement and private conversation has stated that he had favored efforts to bring Russia into the Far Eastern war immediately after Pearl Harbor but had opposed Russia's joining as unnecessary after October 1944.

Efforts have been made to deny that this had been MacArthur's position. As all the papers in this case are in the possession of both General MacArthur and the Pentagon, surely the difference of opinion can be dissolved by the publication of the documents.

General Charles A. Willoughby says in his book, "MacArthur: 1941-1951":

". . . As early as December 13 MacArthur wired Secretary of War Henry Stimson to force the Soviet hand. As MacArthur puts it: '. . . the Russians had turned back the Germans before Moscow. Stalin had his great victories, the Germans had been rolled back 200 to 600 miles. That was the time for the Russians to put pressure on the North and so save the Pacific. But Churchill and the American government were against it. I was as insistent on the Russians' entrance into the war at that time as I was against it later when we had the victory in our grasp.' "

General Willoughby was MacArthur's intelligence officer and because of their present personal relations, his book must be regarded as authorized. So we turn to page 285 of the same book and find:

". . . Toward the end of 1944, Russian intervention in the Pacific appeared as a factor in secret diplomatic understandings. The general commented on this subject as follows: 'From the viewpoint of my headquarters, Russian participation was not required. I had urged Russian intervention in 1941 to draw the Japanese from their southward march and keep them pinned down in Siberia. By 1945 such intervention had become superfluous.' "

Frazier Hunt, in his book, "The Untold Story of Douglas MacArthur," which he could not have written without access to documents, speaks of a press conference on the porch of the Japanese Club at Tacloban, Leyte, several weeks before the Yalta agreement. Hunt wrote:

"Communist Russia, he (MacArthur) insisted, would sooner or later try to reverse the results of the Russo-Japanese War of 1904-5. She still dreamed of recovering Port Arthur, thus securing a warm-water port into the Pacific, and, as well, regaining her lost toehold in Manchuria."

History is built, like a mosaic, from bits and scraps. To this mosaic, Alger Hiss can add much if he would serve his country.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We want no secrets about our oriental policies. Time to let the ladies know that breaking your chop-sticks in Cochin-China is a divorce.

Also we have performed an appendectomy on Foster Dulles' portfolio and find the English are losing out faster than salmon in a cannery. Right now there are more Charley Chans than Sherlock Holmeses on television.

We saw William Gillette create Sherlock wearing a hat that looked like the egg-in-the-bag trick. There are now 11 Sherlocks trying to outslick half-wits and winning by a fraction.

But since Warner Toland played Charley there has been a steady parade of marching Chan-ese.

The Dr. Watsons are out-numbered and out-numbed by Charley's Number One and Two sons. We concede Moriarity is a superior villain but the anti-Chans are picking up on the hills.

Has anybody told our State Department that when you take tea and toast at Lhasa the Tibetans butter the tea?

When Anthony Eden suggested we surrender Formosa he was wearing a deerstalker hat, smoking a yard of bad meerschaum plumbing and enjoying an attack of yellow jaundice.

Winnie Churchill is opposed to our Congress publishing the Yalta papers so soon. He based his slow burn on the fact Lord Chesterfield's son hasn't answered his old man's letters yet.

Now we're all set on our eastern policy if we find the double-crossing taxidermist who stuffed that last portfolio.

Otherwise, it is a matter of indisputable history that chop suey was invented in San Francisco.

On Irish Folklore

By Bob Considine

DUBLIN, April 6 — (INS) — What's better to do cruising at 19,000 feet towards the Emerald Isle than dip into a little Irish folklore?

The cruise is aboard TWA's new super-Connie-G, and the dipping is done into a "Treasury Of Irish Folklore," edited by Padraic Colum. Matter of fact, there's column in Colum, thus:

Oliver Cromwell (bah!) reports some three centuries ago, on the taking of Drogheda:

"It hath pleased God to bless our endeavours. After battery, we stormed it. The enemy were about 3,000 strong in the town. They made a stout resistance, and near 1,000 of our men being entered, the enemy forced them out again. But God giving a new courage to our men, they attempted again, and entered, beating the enemy from their defences.

Praise Belongs To God

"I believe we put to the sword the whole number of the defendants . . . I wish that all honest hearts may give the glory of this to God alone, to whom indeed the praise of this mercy belongs."

Parnell ("The Light That Failed") not long before the turn of the century . . .

"On Tuesday night, December 9, he started for Ireland, accompanied by many of his colleagues. A reporter from the Freeman's Journal asked him before his departure, 'What message, Mr. Parnell, shall I send from you to the Irish people?'

" 'Tell them', he replied, 'that I will fight to the end'."

Irish bull (which meant a blunder in speech):

"In a debate in the Irish House of Commons, Sir Boyle Roache declared, 'The profligacy of the age is such that we see little children not able to walk or talk running about the streets and cursing their Maker!' "

Proverbs:

The Irishman half drunk, the Englishman fed, the Scotsman hungry—that's how they are at their best.

Three things that could be bettered without being improved: Poor clothes on a drunken man; a plain wife married to a blind man; a wooden sword in the hand of a coward.

The lake is not encumbered by the swan; nor the steed by the bridle; nor the sheep by the wool; nor the man by the soul that is in him.

A hound's tooth, a thorn in the hands, a fool's retort are the three sharpest things of all.

The son's seat in his father's house is broad and steady, but the father's seat in the son's house is cramped and rickety.

Fool's Desire

Idleness is the fool's desire.

Long loneliness is better than bad company.

Jokes . . . begob!—

The parson complained to my friend that he had never heard what he had so often heard of—the wit of the Irish peasant. "But you have never spoken to an Irish peasant?" "No." "Then let us try the next one we meet." The next man they met was leading by the halter a horse with a white blaze on his face which suggested to the parson the mild remark, "What a white face your horse has!" "Faith, then, it's your own face would be white if your neck had been so long in a halter!" retorted the man in a tone which suggested that the wish was father to the thought.

The name:

"Ireland" comes from the Scandinavians; it is the native name Eire with "land" added. But two scholars, Sir John Rhys and Henri Hubert, think the name comes from the Indo-European "Pierra." In poetry (ancient) two other names are used—"Banba" (heroic Ireland) and "Fola" (intellectual Ireland).

Donnybrook Fair—It was not necessarily a place for cracking heads. In 1828 Prince Puckler-Muskau, a German travel-writer, came up with:

"They (at the fair) were more like French people, though their gaiety was mingled with more humor and more genuine good nature; both of which are national traits of the Irish and are always doubled by Poteen—the best sort of whisky, illicitly distilled."

Position Of Extremity Counts In Avoiding Fractures

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Colles' fracture of the wrist is a common injury that is likely to occur when an individual slips forward on a rug or an icy sidewalk, and instinctively puts out an arm to break a fall. If the weight of the body falls chiefly on the ball of the thumb, the bone snaps.

This type of fracture is named after the Irish surgeon, Abraham Colles, who first described it in 1814. The radius, the large bone of the forearm, is involved and the break usually occurs an inch above the wrist on the thumb side. This is a strong bone and seldom breaks unless, on falling, the angle that the arm makes with the ground is less than 60 degrees. In this position, the strain is too much for the bone to take.

A minor injury may lead to a slight crack that is difficult to detect, even with X-ray. When stress is greater, the bone breaks completely. Pain is severe and within a few minutes, swelling and tenderness are marked. X-rays are needed to demonstrate the extent of the damage and to help the physician decide how best to set the severed parts.

These fractures usually heal after being set and held in place with a plaster cast. Physical therapy is started as soon as the cast is removed to prevent deformities and residual impairment.

Massage and heat treatments, including whirlpool baths, help improve circulation and limber the surrounding parts. Moving the wrist reduces stiffness. These measures are important because the longer recovery is delayed, the less likely that complete recovery will ensue.

Diagnosis and treatment of bone injuries have been revolutionized since the days of the old-time bonesetter. Most of the credit is due to the use of X-rays, which aid in making the diagnosis and give an accurate picture of the position of the bones. Setting the bones under the fluoroscope also is beneficial in treating these conditions.

Most fractures are the result of injury and some individuals are more unlucky that others when it comes to falling and breaking a bone. The older person is more susceptible and brittleness of bony tissue usually is blamed. But there is a possibility that bone strength has nothing to do with it.

The position of the extremity when exposed to violent strain is more important and the infrequency of fractures among trained athletes serves to exemplify this point. Athletes learn how to fall without exposing the bones to the amount of stress needed to break an arm or leg.

COINCIDENCE

Mrs. J. writes: My husband and I, both in our 50s, each lost a nail from a big toe recently. Is there any significance in this?

REPLY

Perfect harmony is the aim of all marriages but don't you think you are carrying it too far?

ADHESIONS

Mrs. W. writes: Is there any medicine to relieve adhesions following operation?

REPLY

No. Have you had X-rays taken to prove whether you have adhesions? Or is your pain due to another condition that did not exist when the operation was performed?

EAR THROBBING

D. K. writes: At times, when I lie on my left side, there is throbbing in the left ear. What would cause this annoying condition?

REPLY

The sound comes from a palpitating heart as it beats against the chest wall. The vibration is transmitted to the ear via the mattress.

NERVES AND INTESTINE

Mrs. S. writes: Could moving the bowel a lot and lots of gas be due to nerves?

REPLY

Yes, because an overactive nervous system interferes with digestion, encourages fermentation, and stimulates intestinal contractions.

TOMORROW: Eye accidents.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

• Litter And Rubbish Should Be Eliminated

Nothing makes a community appear slovenly or gives the impression of "We don't care" so much as litter, debris and rubbish scattered over the streets, sidewalks and highways.

From time to time we have editorialized about the importance of cleaning up so we naturally were pleased with the charge delivered to the grand jury on Monday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Judge Harris pointed out to the grand jurors some rubbish-littered spots in the county and advised them that there are sufficient laws on the books to effect a clean-up.

Of course, aside from the bad appearance and poor impression caused by the rubbish, there is the even worse fault of being a hazard to good health.

Evidently the trouble is not alone one of Allegany County's. There is a national organization, Keep America Beautiful, and a state group, Keep Maryland Beautiful. Both are concentrating their efforts on cleaning up roadsides and are directing their attack on "litter-bugs," people who, without thinking, throw litter out of moving automobiles.

We have this trouble, too, in Allegany County, perhaps to a lesser degree than some of the more heavily populated metropolitan areas, but enough of it exists to merit looking into it and cleaning it up.

Rubbish dumped along highways and county roads, as Judge Harris pointed out in his charge to the grand jury, certainly creates an eyesore and a health hazard and is even more of a problem.

Much of this, no doubt, is due to carelessness, but the person who dumps the first pile of junk either deliberately or unwittingly invites others to follow suit.

Nonetheless, all of this dumping and littering of public highways with trash or rubbish is a violation of the law and should be stopped.

A statewide cleanup period has been set for April 22-30 and we hope all of our readers will do their part in keeping Allegany County beautiful. Let's not destroy our scenery with litter and rubbish piles.

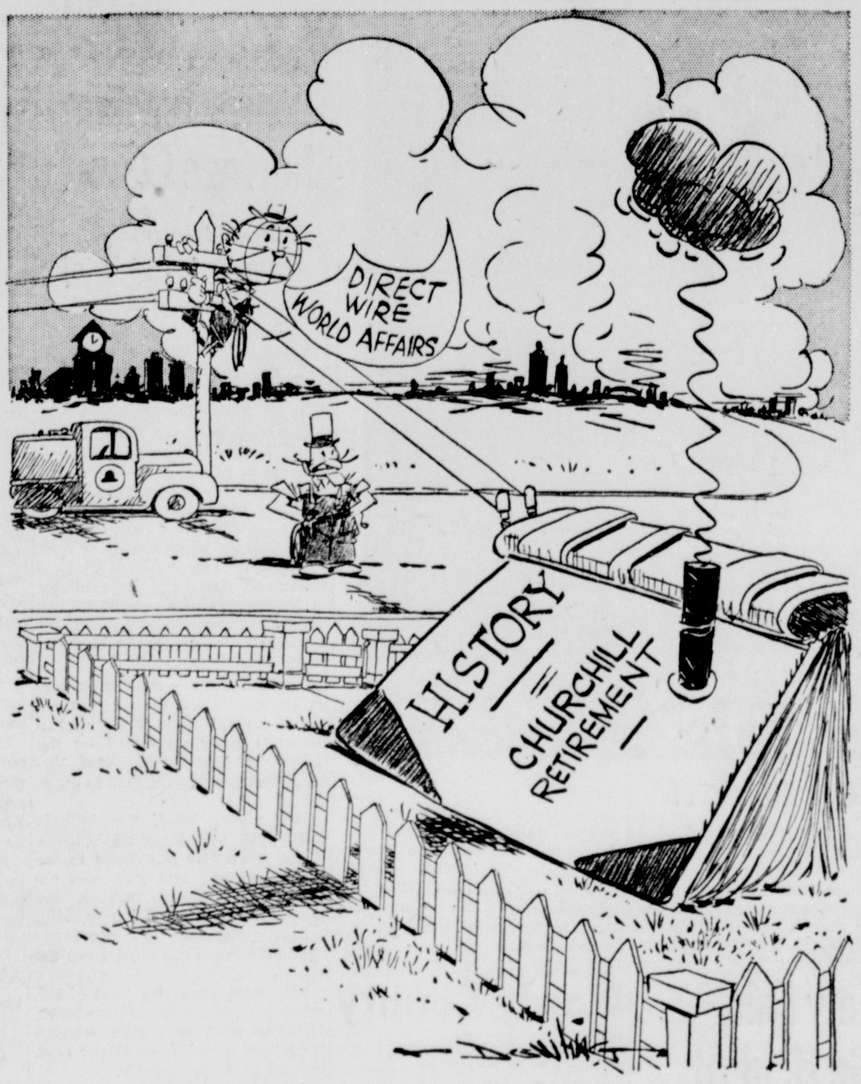
Will Someone Answer The Phone If It Rings?



Navy Secretary Turns Down Present Of F. D. Roosevelt's Old Sailing Sloop

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When Armand Hammer, the collector of Black Angus and King Farouk's Egyptian trophies, acquired Campobello, old homestead of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he also acquired some of the late president's prized possessions.

Campobello is the summer home in Nova Scotia where FDR's mother took her family for years and where the late president was stricken with polio after he dived into cold Canadian water following an exhausting set of tennis.

One of the late president's most prized possessions at Campobello was a sloop which he sailed through Nova Scotia waters as a young man. This was how he first acquired the nautical experience which he later used as assistant secretary of the Navy. Roosevelt cherished the sloop and kept it long after his illness, plus the press of presidential duties made it impossible for him to sail it.

When Hammer bought the Campobello estate from Elliott Roosevelt (who incidentally sold it over the heads of other members of the family) Hammer gave the sloop to FDR's eldest son, Congressman James Roosevelt.

And Congressman Roosevelt offered the sloop to the secretary of the Navy, Charles Thomas, as a gift to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

"It occurs to me that the sloop might be of value to the midshipmen," Jimmy said, "not only in their training, but perhaps sentimentally as having once been used by a former assistant secretary of the Navy."

But the Navy, which FDR loved and which he helped to build up to be the most powerful in the world, turned the gift down.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas didn't even bother to reply personally. He sent word through his aide that the sloop would cost $600 to repair and the economy-minded Eisenhower administration couldn't afford the money.

Merry-Go-Round

Colleagues are twitting the Senate's oldest bachelor, 87-year-old Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, about his "newest love," Mrs. Carter Glass, widow of the late senator from Virginia. Senator Green, who looks as if he would surpass all-time records for age in the Senate, still walks three miles to work every morning, but complains the doctors want him to quit wrestling—once his favorite exercise. . . . Another great walker is Justice William O. Douglas, who walks about 15 to 20 miles every Sunday. Last week he started at 34th Street in Georgetown, walked up the C&O Canal, 17 miles in exactly five hours and 40 minutes. . . . In wartime, if the infantry makes 20 miles a day, it's really traveling. . . . Senator and Mrs. Fulbright of Arkansas are one couple who look as if they really enjoy dancing together. . . . Congratulations to the Youngstown Vindicator for cracking open the peculiar Bethlehem Steel deal by which $6,000,000 of employes' pension money was used in a maneuver to acquire Youngstown Steel and Tube.

Shush! It's Secret!

The Defense Department isn't the only place which suddenly invokes top-level secrecy on dust-covered information the public and the taxpayers have a right to know about.

While Defense officials were suddenly and belatedly stamping "top secret" on General MacArthur's 10-year-old war papers after he claimed he hadn't wanted Russian help in defeating Japan, the Labor Department was doing the same thing with another set of papers.

Quite recently the Labor Department announced that it had blacklisted 20 contractors from getting government contracts because they had violated the Davis-Bacon Act. This requires government contractors to pay prevailing wages in the area where they're working, and Secretary of Labor Mitchell made a braggadocio announcement that Eisenhower was protecting labor by cracking down on 20 contractors who cut wages.

However, when this column wanted the dates when the crack-downs started, the Labor Department, hitherto seeking publicity, suddenly shut up like a clam. These dates, it was stated, were super-duper-ultra top secret.

Reason for the secrecy was simple. The crack-downs against wage-cutters actually started under Harry Truman and because the new Republican administration was trying to take credit for what began as early as the administration of the late Maurice Tobin, secretary of labor under Truman.

Politics Vs. Common Sense

Caught in the same predicament as the Defense Department regarding the MacArthur papers, the Labor Department went to unusual lengths to hush up the dates when the blacklisting of government contractors actually started.

At first John Leslie, Labor Department press spokesman, said that the dates were public information. After all, no war secrets were involved. Proceedings against a builder, he indicated, are like a court prosecution or an immigration hearing.

Mr. Leslie, however, was naive. He was applying common sense, not politics, to his job. Very quickly his superiors reversed him. Stuart Rothman, labor solicitor, and one of the top men under Secretary Mitchell, emphatically said "no!"

"I don't consider these dates public information," he said in reply to a request from this column.

"Why?"

"It would be unfair to the parties involved."

"How would that be? We already have the names of the contractors and the dates when they were blacklisted. You published that yourself. All we want is the date when the wage violation occurred."

"That is not public information."

"In just what way would it be unfair?"

"I have nothing more to say. The information is not public."

NOTE—Amazing part of this head-in-sand policy is that Rothman didn't seem to know that labor union executives who lodged the protests with the Labor Department have kept the dates when the wage violations occurred. They were all pre-Eisenhower.

Attempt To Smear MacArthur Not Likely To Succeed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Attempts to smear General MacArthur with the tragic guilt of the Roosevelt surrender at Yalta to Stalin's demands for concessions are not likely to succeed. For the truth is the general had no part in recommending that any concessions be made at Yalta to win Russian participation in the war against Japan.

Extracts from any records prior to Yalta purporting to show that the Far Eastern commander did recommend Russian participation are not available for the simple reason that there are none.

Within the last few days various persons have been quoted as saying that General MacArthur favored Russian participation and had made plans based on that assumption. But every one of the extracts cited is dated after the Yalta conference, when all commanders who learned about the Russian military help that was to be forthcoming discussed it on that basis.

Evidence Demolished

The report got started that General MacArthur was instrumental in the decisions made at Yalta when the Yalta papers came out recently. Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, spoke on this point and insisted that some of the decisions of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff on which President Roosevelt relied were influenced by General MacArthur.

To support that contention, two things have been offered in evidence. One is an entry in the diary of the late James Forrestal, who was secretary of the Navy and had visited the Philippines where the alleged conversation relative to possible Russian participation took place. Another item was an article in The Reporter magazine by Louis Morton, an Army historian who has asserted that MacArthur was "perfectly willing" to make concessions to get Stalin to attack Japan.

Both pieces of evidence have been demolished. The Forrestal item was negated by General Courtney Whitney, aide to General MacArthur, who pointed out that the notation was not in Forrestal's handwriting and that there were obvious inaccuracies as to time and place where the secretary of the Navy did meet the Far Eastern commander.

The other rebuttal came in a citation from the book written by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, who accompanied Secretary Forrestal on that same trip and was present during the discussion to which reference was made in the diary. The book was published in 1951 and the extract in question makes no reference to Russian participation and shows that the whole discussion took place after the Yalta conference. The book says General MacArthur predicted then that the Pacific war would came to an end within six months, namely in 1945. That was contrary to the thinking in the Navy, which was that the war would go on for 18 months.

Only Natural

Another article in the news has been the publication of a communique issued in August 1945, when General MacArthur welcomed Russia into the war. But this was several months after the conference at Yalta, and it was natural for the Far Eastern commander to issue such a statement when a new ally was entering the war.

Still another quotation has been publicized concerning General MacArthur's views in 1945. It appears that General George A. Lincoln conferred with General MacArthur in the Philippines and, under date of February 25, 1945, sent a message to General Marshall saying that the Far Eastern commander had declared "planning should start at once." This related to possible invasion of Japan and suggested that "as many Japanese divisions as possible should be pinned down on the mainland, principally by Soviet forces."

This date — February 25, 1945 — is about 14 days after the Yalta conference ended. Obviously, when General MacArthur learned definitely for the first time that Russia was coming into the war, he began saying that "planning should start at once."

But this is a far cry from the claim that the general knew about Yalta in advance or recommended the course taken there. The official records of all messages are in the Pentagon, but General Courtney Whitney made copies of all important messages for his own records and he has issued a statement saying there is no such evidence in the Pentagon. MacArthur can't be blamed for Roosevelt's blunder at Yalta.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We want no secrets about our oriental policies. Time to let the ladies know that breaking your chop-sticks in Cochin-China is a divorce.

Also we have performed an appendectomy on Foster Dulles' portfolio and find the English are losing out faster than salmon in a cannery. Right now there are more Charley Chans than Sherlock Holmeses on television.

We saw William Gillette create Sherlock wearing a hat that looked like the egg-in-the-bag trick. There are now 11 Sherlocks trying to outslick half-wits and winning by a fraction.

But since Warner Toland played Charley there has been a steady parade of marching Chan-ese.

The Dr. Watsons are out-numbered and out-numbed by Charley's Number One and Two sons. We concede Moriarity is a superior villain but the anti-Chans are picking up on the hills.

Has anybody told our State Department that when you take tea and toast at Lhasa the Tibetans butter the tea?

When Anthony Eden suggested we surrender Formosa he was wearing a deerstalker hat, smoking a yard of bad meerschaum plumbing and enjoying an attack of yellow jaundice.

Winnie Churchill is opposed to our Congress publishing the Yalta papers so soon. He based his slow burn on the fact Lord Chesterfield's son hasn't answered his old man's letters yet.

Now we're all set on our eastern policy if we find the double-crossing taxidermist who stuffed that last portfolio.

Otherwise, it is a matter of indisputable history that chop suey was invented in San Francisco.

On Irish Folklore

By Bob Considine

DUBLIN, April 6 — (INS) — What's better to do cruising at 19,000 feet towards the Emerald Isle than dip into a little Irish folklore?

The cruise is aboard TWA's new super-Connie-G, and the dipping is done into a "Treasury Of Irish Folklore," edited by Padraic Colum. Matter of fact, there's column in Colum, thus:

Oliver Cromwell (bah!) reports some three centuries ago, on the taking of Drogheda:

"It hath pleased God to bless our endeavours. After battery, we stormed it. The enemy were about 3,000 strong in the town. They made a stout resistance, and near 1,000 of our men being entered, the enemy forced them out again. But God giving a new courage to our men, they attempted again, and entered, beating the enemy from their defences.

Praise Belongs To God

"I believe we put to the sword the whole number of the defendants . . . I wish that all honest hearts may give the glory of this to God alone, to whom indeed the praise of this mercy belongs."

Parnell ("The Light That Failed") not long before the turn of the century . . .

"On Tuesday night, December 9, he started for Ireland, accompanied by many of his colleagues. A reporter from the Freeman's Journal asked him before his departure, 'What message, Mr. Parnell, shall I send from you to the Irish people?'

" 'Tell them', he replied, 'that I will fight to the end'."

Irish bull (which meant a blunder in speech):

"In a debate in the Irish House of Commons, Sir Boyle Roache declared, 'The profligacy of the age is such that we see little children not able to walk or talk running about the streets and cursing their Maker!' "

Proverbs:

The Irishman half drunk, the Englishman fed, the Scotsman hungry—that's how they are at their best.

Three things that could be bettered without being improved: Poor clothes on a drunken man; a plain wife married to a blind man; a wooden sword in the hand of a coward.

The lake is not encumbered by the swan; nor the steed by the bridle; nor the sheep by the wool; nor the man by the soul that is in him.

A hound's tooth, a thorn in the hands, a fool's retort are the three sharpest things of all.

The son's seat in his father's house is broad and steady, but the father's seat in the son's house is cramped and rickety.

Fool's Desire

Idleness is the fool's desire.

Long loneliness is better than bad company.

Jokes . . . begob!—

The parson complained to my friend that he had never heard what he had so often heard of—the wit of the Irish peasant. "But you have never spoken to an Irish peasant?" "No." "Then let us try the next one we meet." The next man they met was leading by the halter a horse with a white blaze on his face which suggested to the parson the mild remark, "What a white face your horse has!" "Faith, then, it's your own face would be white if your neck had been so long in a halter!" retorted the man in a tone which suggested that the wish was father to the thought.

The name:

"Ireland" comes from the Scandinavians; it is the native name Eire with "land" added. But two scholars, Sir John Rhys and Henri Hubert, think the name comes from the Indo-European "Pierra." In poetry (ancient) two other names are used—"Banba" (heroic Ireland) and "Fola" (intellectual Ireland).

Donnybrook Fair—It was not necessarily a place for cracking heads. In 1828 Prince Puckler-Muskau, a German travel-writer, came up with:

"They (at the fair) were more like French people, though their gaiety was mingled with more humor and more genuine good nature; both of which are national traits of the Irish and are always doubled by Poteen—the best sort of whisky, illicitly distilled."

Position Of Extremity Counts In Avoiding Fractures

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Colles' fracture of the wrist is a common injury that is likely to occur when an individual slips forward on a rug or an icy sidewalk, and instinctively puts out an arm to break a fall. If the weight of the body falls chiefly on the ball of the thumb, the bone snaps.

This type of fracture is named after the Irish surgeon, Abraham Colles, who first described it in 1814. The radius, the large bone of the forearm, is involved and the break usually occurs an inch above the wrist on the thumb side. This is a strong bone and seldom breaks unless, on falling, the angle that the arm makes with the ground is less than 60 degrees. In this position, the strain is too much for the bone to take.

A minor injury may lead to a slight crack that is difficult to detect, even with X-ray. When stress is greater, the bone breaks completely. Pain is severe and within a few minutes, swelling and tenderness are marked. X-rays are needed to demonstrate the extent of the damage and to help the physician decide how best to set the severed parts.

These fractures usually heal after being set and held in place with a plaster cast. Physical therapy is started as soon as the cast is removed to prevent deformities and residual impairment.

Massage and heat treatments, including whirlpool baths, help improve circulation and limber the surrounding parts. Moving the wrist reduces stiffness. These measures are important because the longer recovery is delayed, the less likely that complete recovery will ensue.

Diagnosis and treatment of bone injuries have been revolutionized since the days of the old-time bonesetter. Most of the credit is due to the use of X-rays, which aid in making the diagnosis and give an accurate picture of the position of the bones. Setting the bones under the fluoroscope also is beneficial in treating these conditions.

Most fractures are the result of injury and some individuals are more unlucky that others when it comes to falling and breaking a bone. The older person is more susceptible and brittleness of bony tissue usually is blamed. But there is a possibility that bone strength has nothing to do with it.

The position of the extremity when exposed to violent strain is more important and the infrequency of fractures among trained athletes serves to exemplify this point. Athletes learn how to fall without exposing the bones to the amount of stress needed to break an arm or leg.

COINCIDENCE

Mrs. J. writes: My husband and I, both in our 50s, each lost a nail from a big toe recently. Is there any significance in this?

REPLY

Perfect harmony is the aim of all marriages but don't you think you are carrying it too far?

ADHESIONS

Mrs. W. writes: Is there any medicine to relieve adhesions following operation?

REPLY

No. Have you had X-rays taken to prove whether you have adhesions? Or is your pain due to another condition that did not exist when the operation was performed?

EAR THROBBING

D. K. writes: At times, when I lie on my left side, there is throbbing in the left ear. What would cause this annoying condition?

REPLY

The sound comes from a palpitating heart as it beats against the chest wall. The vibration is transmitted to the ear via the mattress.

NERVES AND INTESTINE

Mrs. S. writes: Could moving the bowel a lot and lots of gas be due to nerves?

REPLY

Yes, because an overactive nervous system interferes with digestion, encourages fermentation, and stimulates intestinal contractions.

TOMORROW: Eye accidents.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Census takers in the remote Arkansas hills have special problems. One, for instance, encountered a rugged girl—not more than 20—with four children. "May I have their ages?" he inquired. W. Va. C. Of C. Studies Teacher Shortage Claim

Believe Migration From State Not Fatal

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 6 (AP)—Teacher migration from West Virginia is "not likely to prove fatal", the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce said in its latest bulletin to members.

The bulletin cites a study by the West Virginia University College of Commerce published in June, 1954, which shows the migration of teachers to be less than normal.

The bulletin stated that, "The alleged teacher migration from West Virginia cited by the West Virginia Education Assn. and its affiliates in its support of an eight million dollar increase of state aid for teachers' salaries, is not likely to prove fatal."

It added that this conclusion may be drawn "if we may rely upon the documented conclusions of a research study conducted by the College of Commerce, West Virginia University, published in June, 1954."

The study, itself, the bulletin said, dealt with the case histories of 550 university graduates in the classes of 1951 and 1952 who obtained employment through the placement office of the university.

Law, medicine and pharmacy graduates were excluded from the study.

The study showed a total of 377, or 69 per cent, of the 550 graduates left the state to secure employment and only 137, or 31 per cent, stayed in West Virginia.

In a further break down of the study, the bulletin said 81 per cent of the engineer graduates left the state, 71 per cent in business and economics, 62 per cent in agriculture, forestry and economics and only 42 per cent in education.

Tri-Towns Scouters Favor Council Re-Districting Idea

More Adult Leaders Needed For Cub Packs

LONACONING — The Tri-Towns District Scouters at a meeting held here in the VFW Hall, Tuesday evening, recommended the approval of the proposed plan of redistricting of Potomac Council.

A chart prepared by Randall Smith of Piedmont was explained by him showing some of the benefits. The new plan which will be voted on at the annual meeting of Potomac Council in June would reduce the districts from six to three.

Such a plan would reduce the number of meetings the scout executive, Willias V. Smith or the field executive would have to attend and curtail some of the office expense of the Council.

About $1100 has been collected in the annual drive by the Tri-Towns District for the support of Potomac Council Wilbur Cathers, of Piedmont reported. He does not expect the contributions to exceed $1500.

It now appears that the contributions will fall short of last year when $2,200 was donated. The budget for the Council this year is $19,255 and 99 per cent is spent locally.

Alton R. Fortney, Luke, chairman of camping and activities of the district praised the Sweetheart Ball sponsored by Potomac Council at Bruce High School.

Paul Daddysman, new leader of Cub Pack 33 cited the need for another Cub Pack since they have more applications for cubbers than they have leaders.

There is need Daddysman stated to interest more parents in cubbing activities and to plan more activities.

Carl P. McMillen, district chairman, presided and stated that Leonard Johnson, scoutmaster of the Lonaconing troop should be proud of his troop as they "stole the show" at the annual Boy Scout Circus held at the Piedmont High School in February.

Johnson was authorized to select a member of his troop to participate in the ceremony of placing a wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier at the National Cemetery at Arlington on May 1.

A Girl Scout will also be selected to participate in the laying of the wreath. The Boy and Girl Scouts of the Tri-Towns District will spend the weekend in Washington April 30 and May 1.

Fortney stated reservations have already been made for over 237 scouts and scouters to attend. Nine Boy Scout and 10 Girl Scout troops are expected to go.

The Scouters of the Tri-Town District will have water front equipment at Camp Potomac placed again this year before camping begins June 15.

Ronald Carpenter and James Rafter will be the committee in charge of the work.

Chairman McMillen appointed Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Julian G. Patrick, Leonard Johnson, Evan Meese and Alton R. Fortney, members of a nominating committee.

The election will be held in June for the selection of a chairman, vice chairman and district commissioner.

During the homeroom period on April 15 each member of each homeroom will have the right to vote for the one attendant in the Senior Class whom he thinks should serve the school as May Queen.

It added that this conclusion may be drawn "if we may rely upon the documented conclusions of a research study conducted by the College of Commerce, West Virginia University, published in June, 1954."

The study, itself, the bulletin said, dealt with the case histories of 550 university graduates in the classes of 1951 and 1952 who obtained employment through the placement office of the university.

Law, medicine and pharmacy graduates were excluded from the study.

The study showed a total of 377, or 69 per cent, of the 550 graduates left the state to secure employment and only 137, or 31 per cent, stayed in West Virginia.

In a further break down of the study, the bulletin said 81 per cent of the engineer graduates left the state, 71 per cent in business and economics, 62 per cent in agriculture, forestry and economics and only 42 per cent in education.

Tri-Towns Scouters Favor Council Re-Districting Idea

More Adult Leaders Needed For Cub Packs

LONACONING — The Tri-Towns District Scouters at a meeting held here in the VFW Hall, Tuesday evening, recommended the approval of the proposed plan of redistricting of Potomac Council.

A chart prepared by Randall Smith of Piedmont was explained by him showing some of the benefits. The new plan which will be voted on at the annual meeting of Potomac Council in June would reduce the districts from six to three.

Such a plan would reduce the number of meetings the scout executive, Willias V. Smith or the field executive would have to attend and curtail some of the office expense of the Council.

About $1100 has been collected in the annual drive by the Tri-Towns District for the support of Potomac Council Wilbur Cathers, of Piedmont reported. He does not expect the contributions to exceed $1500.

It now appears that the contributions will fall short of last year when $2,200 was donated. The budget for the Council this year is $19,255 and 99 per cent is spent locally.

Alton R. Fortney, Luke, chairman of camping and activities of the district praised the Sweetheart Ball sponsored by Potomac Council at Bruce High School.

Paul Daddysman, new leader of Cub Pack 33 cited the need for another Cub Pack since they have more applications for cubbers than they have leaders.

There is need Daddysman stated to interest more parents in cubbing activities and to plan more activities.

Carl P. McMillen, district chairman, presided and stated that Leonard Johnson, scoutmaster of the Lonaconing troop should be proud of his troop as they "stole the show" at the annual Boy Scout Circus held at the Piedmont High School in February.

Johnson was authorized to select a member of his troop to participate in the ceremony of placing a wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier at the National Cemetery at Arlington on May 1.

A Girl Scout will also be selected to participate in the laying of the wreath. The Boy and Girl Scouts of the Tri-Towns District will spend the weekend in Washington April 30 and May 1.

Fortney stated reservations have already been made for over 237 scouts and scouters to attend. Nine Boy Scout and 10 Girl Scout troops are expected to go.

The Scouters of the Tri-Town District will have water front equipment at Camp Potomac placed again this year before camping begins June 15.

Ronald Carpenter and James Rafter will be the committee in charge of the work.

Chairman McMillen appointed Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Julian G. Patrick, Leonard Johnson, Evan Meese and Alton R. Fortney, members of a nominating committee.

The election will be held in June for the selection of a chairman, vice chairman and district commissioner.

Atlantic Greyhound Bus Drivers Call Strike

Company Operates In 10-State Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 6 (AP)—Atlantic Greyhound buses were wheeled into the carbarns tonight as operations were halted by a system-wide strike.

Regular schedules were maintained up to the zero hour of midnight, but no new trips were started.

Strike leaders said many buses would be on the highways when the midnight strike call took effect and these would proceed to their destinations. Such buses were to be immobilized upon their arrival at terminal points.

The strike affected 725 drivers and scores of nondriving personnel in 10 states.

Atlantic Greyhound, an affiliate of the nationwide Greyhound systemn operates in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

The company has headquarters in Charleston.

Daniel V. Marony, president of division 1493 of the AFL union, earlier had said the strike would be called unless the company met with the union and reached a settlement this week.

George S. Engle, company president, said Atlantic Greyhound had commitments which prevented management from meeting with union before April 11.

In addition to the drivers, the strike was estimated to affect 1,800 other Atlantic Greyhound employes in the 10-state area.

The cessation also would affect interlocking schedules with other Greyhound affiliates at major cities or junction points.

He pointed out that for the three injections it will take five weeks. The second shot is administered one week after the initial shot and the third shot four weeks after the second shot. Frostburg Council Studies Plant Site For Industry

FROSTBURG—Mayor Perry W. Myers announced at the City Council meeting Monday that a telephone call from the M. Berkowitz Company lawyers in New York City informed him that the building offered the company by Simeon Green last week for the relocation of their plant would not be suitable for economical operation.

The lawyers will contact the city attorney concerning their requests as to the type of building they must have if they are to continue operations in Frostburg. The present building was condemned by their engineers and production cut.

Police Commissioner Arthur Thomas questioned the council as to what provisions had been made for a walkway to Miners Hospital. He pointed out that since the building will be larger than before, the police department anticipates more foot traffic in that vicinity. It is exceedingly dangerous, he said, as pedestrians have to walk on the highway which is very narrow at this spot and also on a curve. He stated that if any vehicle was making an emergency run to the hospital and would meet pedestrians and another car at this spot it could very easily result in another accident.

Police Chief Lloyd Truly pointed out that Frostburg has a perfect pedestrian record of no fatalities in city limits since 1948 and he felt that steps should be taken immediately to preserve this record. The council requested the mayor to contact state roads officials and the board of directors of the hospital to see if any provisions had been made for a sidewalk along the new wing.

Jesse Markley Gets Verdict In Hitless Chore In Relief

Ed. McKenney's single scored Dorcil Kline from second in the fifth inning yesterday enabling Fort Hill's varsity to triumph over an Alumni aggregation, 4-2.

The center fielder's base rap to right broke a 2-2 tie and put Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's nine ahead in the opening clash of the season for the Sentinels nine at Fort Hill field.

The varsity added an insurance run in the sixth frame on Jesse Markley's two base rap and Galen McGregor's bounce to the infield which went through the legs of the second baseman.

Markley Bags Win

Markley, pitching three hitless innings in relief after starter Wayne Murray went out for a pinch-hitter, was credited with the triumph.

The Grads picked up single tallies in the third and fourth innings to grab a 2-0 lead. Bill Burke opened the third with a single to left and moved up on Ivan Abe's sacrifice. Joe Wolfe doubled Burke home.

In the Alumni fourth Gerald Null was safe on an error and scored all the way from first when third baseman Ed Parsons threw wildly past first after fielding Burke's grounder.

Fort Hill wasted two singles in the first inning but tied the count in the fourth on Parsons' one base knock, a walk to McKenney, a forceout, Don Iron's single which scored Parsons with the first run, an error and Galen McGregor's walk with the bases loaded.

Kline Gets Two Hits

Murray pitched the first four innings for Fort Hill and was touched for four hits and both Alumni runs. He struck out five and walked one man.

Ivan Abe began on the hill for the Grads, giving way to George McGregor in the sixth. Abe was the losing pitcher, being touched for five of the varsity nine's seven hits.

Kline topped the Fort Hill hitters with a pair of singles while Markley collected a double. Joe Wolf's double was the only extra base blow for the Alumni. The box:

Dropo Smacks Two Sox Homers

Chicago Smashes St. Louis, 13-3

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6 (AP)—Walt Dropo powered two bonus-run homers today, one off aging Vic Raschi and the other off southpaw Harvey Haddix, to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 13-3 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory was the third for the White Sox in eight meetings with the Redbirds in their spring series.

Dropo smashed a two run homer in the sixth off the 36-year-old Raschi who relieved Haddix in the fifth. In the third Dropo socked a three-run homer off Haddix. It was the first exhibition game for Raschi who has been having back trouble.

Rip Repulski sparked the Cardinals attack, connecting for his fourth exhibition homer in the fifth and getting three safeties in all for his afternoon's work.

Kansas City Owner Barred From Park Where Team Plays

KANSAS CITY, April 6 (AP) — Nathaniel Leverone, chairman of the board of the Kansas City Athletics, got stopped at the gate when he dropped by the Municipal Stadium to see how preparations were coming for the opening game next Tuesday.

"Sorry, bud, you can't get in," said a workman, explaining that casual passers-by weren't allowed to come in for a look-see anytime they felt like it.

Leverone said later he didn't think it would do any good to explain he was part owner of the club using the park. He was about to depart when another workman identified Leverone—from a recent television appearance.

Navy Concludes Grid Practice

Oldham Is Given Right Half Berth

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP)—Navy wound up spring football practice today with a bright crop of plebe talent taking up much of the slack left by graduation and ineligibility losses to the 1955 Sugar Bowl champions.

Edwin Oldham, a 182-pound freshman from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, earned a first-string right halfback berth to plug one of the gaps. And four other plebes battled their way past veterans to second-string positions.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz tabbed the hard-running Oldham an excellent prospect but refused to go too high in praising any of the freshmen who he says still have to prove their mettle next fall. He couldn't conceal pleasure with their showing, however.

Erdelatz also shied away from comparing the team he has developed in 20 spring practice sessions with the surprising group which won 7 of its 9 games last season and knocked off Mississippi 21-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

He did concede that "we're farther along than we were last year at this time" and said the enthusiasm which sparked the success for last year's eleven hasn't diminished any, even in the fundamental routine of spring drills.

Erdelatz already had a solid nucleus of starters around which to build, even though he lost 21 players. Back from the 1954 team are quarterback George Welsh, the daring little field general of the Middies, and ends Ron Beagle and Earle Smith, tackles John Hopkins and Pat McCool and center Wilson Whitmire.

In their only meeting, Calvary defeated Emmanuel Methodist on November 20 by the score o 40-29.

Carl Erskine Blanks Nats

Brooklyn Wins, 6-0, Behind Righthander

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Carl Erskine, slated to pitch the National League opener for Brooklyn next Tuesday, warmed up by blanking the Washington Senators 6-0 in an exhibition game tonight, although the Dodgers had to come up with some splendid defense in the eighth to protect the shutout.

It was the first nine-inning stint of the spring for a Dodger pitcher.

Bob Porterfield, the righthander Manager Chuck Dressen has tabbed for Washington's American League debut Monday, was the loser. He was tagged for eight of Brooklyn's 11 hits before stepping down for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

The Brooks piled up a 5-0 lead against Porterfield after Carl Furillo homered for two runs in the second.

Snead And Hogan Favored As Masters Begins Today

Sam To Defend His 1954 Golf Crown

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP) — Georgia's big freeze a couple of weeks ago deprived the Masters golf tournament of its usual floral background. Another kind of big freeze is due to hit tomorrow when play begins in this first major tournament of the 1955 season. And this time players instead of flowers will be the victims.

Most golfers regard the Masters as second in importance only to the National Open. There's a natural tendency to tighten up in these big ones and its sure to affect some of the brash youngsters who have been playing blithely through the lesser tournaments.

When they come face to face with the fearsome Augusta National course and with the hand picked Masters field of 78, they're likely to find things a bit different than it was on the winter tour.

The 6,950-yard par 36-36—72 course isn't notably tough as championship golf courses go. But its a lot bigger than most others and every shot must be played right to produce a good score.

In 18 previous tournaments, only nine 72-hole scores of 280 or better have been turned in. Three of those were by Ben Hogan, who set the Masters record of 274 two years ago.

Whether the scores this year approach the 1953 low or the 1954 high, when scores of 289 gave Hogan and Sam Snead a tie, probably depends on the weather and where the cups are placed for the four championship rounds.

Hogan and Snead have been established as the favorites by local pricemakers, who give Ben a slight edge over the man who beat him in last year's playoff.

Snead especially has precedent going against him. No player ever has won the Masters four times—Snead has won three—and no Masters champion ever has defended his title successfully.

The touring pros have picked Mike Souchak, the year's leading money winner, as the most likely to win and there's a lot of sentiment favoring such other young players as Gene Littler, Bob Toski, Jay Hebert, Billy Maxwell, Bob Rosburg and Peter Thompson.

The bill states that on June 6, 1941, Harry Thomas Keefer was married to Magdalene A. Fort Hill Tops Grads; Frostburg State Nine Opens Today

Varsity Wins On M'Kenney's Base Hit, 4-2

Jesse Markley Gets Verdict In Hitless Chore In Relief

Ed. McKenney's single scored Dorcil Kline from second in the fifth inning yesterday enabling Fort Hill's varsity to triumph over an Alumni aggregation, 4-2.

The center fielder's base rap to right broke a 2-2 tie and put Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's nine ahead in the opening clash of the season for the Sentinels nine at Fort Hill field.

The varsity added an insurance run in the sixth frame on Jesse Markley's two base rap and Galen McGregor's bounce to the infield which went through the legs of the second baseman.

Markley Bags Win

Markley, pitching three hitless innings in relief after starter Wayne Murray went out for a pinch-hitter, was credited with the triumph.

The Grads picked up single tallies in the third and fourth innings to grab a 2-0 lead. Bill Burke opened the third with a single to left and moved up on Ivan Abe's sacrifice. Joe Wolfe doubled Burke home.

In the Alumni fourth Gerald Null was safe on an error and scored all the way from first when third baseman Ed Parsons threw wildly past first after fielding Burke's grounder.

Fort Hill wasted two singles in the first inning but tied the count in the fourth on Parsons' one base knock, a walk to McKenney, a forceout, Don Iron's single which scored Parsons with the first run, an error and Galen McGregor's walk with the bases loaded.

Kline Gets Two Hits

Murray pitched the first four innings for Fort Hill and was touched for four hits and both Alumni runs. He struck out five and walked one man.

Ivan Abe began on the hill for the Grads, giving way to George McGregor in the sixth. Abe was the losing pitcher, being touched for five of the varsity nine's seven hits.

Kline topped the Fort Hill hitters with a pair of singles while Markley collected a double. Joe Wolf's double was the only extra base blow for the Alumni. The box:

Dropo Smacks Two Sox Homers

Chicago Smashes St. Louis, 13-3

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6 (AP)—Walt Dropo powered two bonus-run homers today, one off aging Vic Raschi and the other off southpaw Harvey Haddix, to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 13-3 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory was the third for the White Sox in eight meetings with the Redbirds in their spring series.

Dropo smashed a two run homer in the sixth off the 36-year-old Raschi who relieved Haddix in the fifth. In the third Dropo socked a three-run homer off Haddix. It was the first exhibition game for Raschi who has been having back trouble.

Rip Repulski sparked the Cardinals attack, connecting for his fourth exhibition homer in the fifth and getting three safeties in all for his afternoon's work.

Kansas City Owner Barred From Park Where Team Plays

KANSAS CITY, April 6 (AP) — Nathaniel Leverone, chairman of the board of the Kansas City Athletics, got stopped at the gate when he dropped by the Municipal Stadium to see how preparations were coming for the opening game next Tuesday.

"Sorry, bud, you can't get in," said a workman, explaining that casual passers-by weren't allowed to come in for a look-see anytime they felt like it.

Leverone said later he didn't think it would do any good to explain he was part owner of the club using the park. He was about to depart when another workman identified Leverone—from a recent television appearance.

Navy Concludes Grid Practice

Oldham Is Given Right Half Berth

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP)—Navy wound up spring football practice today with a bright crop of plebe talent taking up much of the slack left by graduation and ineligibility losses to the 1955 Sugar Bowl champions.

Edwin Oldham, a 182-pound freshman from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, earned a first-string right halfback berth to plug one of the gaps. And four other plebes battled their way past veterans to second-string positions.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz tabbed the hard-running Oldham an excellent prospect but refused to go too high in praising any of the freshmen who he says still have to prove their mettle next fall. He couldn't conceal pleasure with their showing, however.

Erdelatz also shied away from comparing the team he has developed in 20 spring practice sessions with the surprising group which won 7 of its 9 games last season and knocked off Mississippi 21-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

He did concede that "we're farther along than we were last year at this time" and said the enthusiasm which sparked the success for last year's eleven hasn't diminished any, even in the fundamental routine of spring drills.

Erdelatz already had a solid nucleus of starters around which to build, even though he lost 21 players. Back from the 1954 team are quarterback George Welsh, the daring little field general of the Middies, and ends Ron Beagle and Earle Smith, tackles John Hopkins and Pat McCool and center Wilson Whitmire.

In their only meeting, Calvary defeated Emmanuel Methodist on November 20 by the score o 40-29.

Carl Erskine Blanks Nats

Brooklyn Wins, 6-0, Behind Righthander

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Carl Erskine, slated to pitch the National League opener for Brooklyn next Tuesday, warmed up by blanking the Washington Senators 6-0 in an exhibition game tonight, although the Dodgers had to come up with some splendid defense in the eighth to protect the shutout.

It was the first nine-inning stint of the spring for a Dodger pitcher.

Bob Porterfield, the righthander Manager Chuck Dressen has tabbed for Washington's American League debut Monday, was the loser. He was tagged for eight of Brooklyn's 11 hits before stepping down for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

The Brooks piled up a 5-0 lead against Porterfield after Carl Furillo homered for two runs in the second.

Snead And Hogan Favored As Masters Begins Today

Sam To Defend His 1954 Golf Crown

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP) — Georgia's big freeze a couple of weeks ago deprived the Masters golf tournament of its usual floral background. Another kind of big freeze is due to hit tomorrow when play begins in this first major tournament of the 1955 season. And this time players instead of flowers will be the victims.

Most golfers regard the Masters as second in importance only to the National Open. There's a natural tendency to tighten up in these big ones and its sure to affect some of the brash youngsters who have been playing blithely through the lesser tournaments.

When they come face to face with the fearsome Augusta National course and with the hand picked Masters field of 78, they're likely to find things a bit different than it was on the winter tour.

The 6,950-yard par 36-36—72 course isn't notably tough as championship golf courses go. But its a lot bigger than most others and every shot must be played right to produce a good score.

In 18 previous tournaments, only nine 72-hole scores of 280 or better have been turned in. Three of those were by Ben Hogan, who set the Masters record of 274 two years ago.

Whether the scores this year approach the 1953 low or the 1954 high, when scores of 289 gave Hogan and Sam Snead a tie, probably depends on the weather and where the cups are placed for the four championship rounds.

Hogan and Snead have been established as the favorites by local pricemakers, who give Ben a slight edge over the man who beat him in last year's playoff.

Snead especially has precedent going against him. No player ever has won the Masters four times—Snead has won three—and no Masters champion ever has defended his title successfully.

The touring pros have picked Mike Souchak, the year's leading money winner, as the most likely to win and there's a lot of sentiment favoring such other young players as Gene Littler, Bob Toski, Jay Hebert, Billy Maxwell, Bob Rosburg and Peter Thompson.

Harry Thomas Keefer vs. Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, No. 24044 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, Harry Thomas Keefer, and against the Defendant, Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill states that on June 6, 1941, Harry Thomas Keefer was married to Magdalene A. It is thereupon this 16th day of March, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of April, 1955, giving notice to the said Magdalene A. Keefer, also known as May Turner Kifer, of the object and substance of this bill of complaint, and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 4th day of May, 1955, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Chuck Thompson Ties Track Record To Win Bowie Feature

10,338 Watch Favorite Come From Behind

Six-Furlong Mark Is Set In Previous Race By Wabash Moon

BOWIE, Md., April 6 (AP) — Chuck Thompson, a nominee for all triple crown events, turned in a corking come-from-behind effort in the $4,000 Soul of Honor purse today, equaling the six-furlong track record which had been set in the afternoon's previous race.

Timed in 1.10 1-5, the 3-year-old son of Reaping Reward held a 2½-length margin over Indicative at the finish with Jockey Eldon Nelson in the saddle. Third money went to Powder Flash, a length and a half behind the runnerup.

Chuck Thompson is owned by Gee M. Cohen and trained by Charles R. White.

J. L. Friedman's Wabash Moon, an $11,000 selling plater, had set the 1.10 1-15 mark in the previous race and earlier in the day the 2-year-old Hi-Sag set a 4½-furlong course record of 52 4-5.

Chuck Thompson went off $4.40 for $2 favorite with the crowd of 10,338 fans.

Nelson also won with Hi-Sag in the third. This 2-year-old son of Saggy and Imperieuse won by three-quarters of a length from Tropic King, a first-time starter installed heavy favorite.

Hi-Sag, second winner of the day sired by the stallion Saggy, returned a $9.20 mutuel.

The daily double (Nos. 7 and 9) was worth $181.80 with Kentessa and Grand Tempo accounting for the first and second events. Today's mutuel handle was $944,396.

Reynolds Placed On Retired List By N. Y. Yankees

"Chief' Then Picks Cleveland To Win

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — The official retirement of Allie Reynolds today snuffed out any faint hopes the New York Yankees had that the former great pitcher might change his mind and take one last whirl. Reynolds was formally placed on the voluntary retired list.

The loss of the "The Chief," as Reynolds was known to millions of baseball fans, undoubtedly will make the Yankees' task of wresting the American League crown from Cleveland that much more difficult.

In the eight years that Reynolds toiled for the Yankees he proved to be one of the greatest "money" pitchers in the club's history. In addition to winning 131 games while losing only 60 during the regular seasons, Allie captured seven World Series games to equal the record established by Red Ruffing, another former Yankee.

Although it was quite unintentional on his part, Reynolds himself gave the tipoff on just how much his loss would be felt by the Yankees when he picked the Indians to retain their championship.

In a recent interview in his Oklahoma office where he is deeply occupied in the oil business, Reynolds said he liked Cleveland's chances "because they have just about the greatest mound corps I've ever seen assembled in my time.

"I'd never think of counting out the Yankees," he added quickly, "but look at the Cleveland pitching—Wynn, Garcia and Lemon, with Houtteman and Feller behind them, Mossi and Narleski bound to be much better after a year's experience, and Herb Score virtually a cinch to become a regular winner.

"The Yankees chances depend a lot on how Bob Turley and Don Larsen get away. If they win right off the bat it will give them confidence and they will be rough all the way."

Eagles Sign Two

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles today announced the signing of Glenn Bowers, center and guard from the University of Arizona, and William Marker, pass-catching end from the West Virginia University. The two National Football League rookies will report to the Eagles' training base at Hershey, Pa., late in July.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, April 6—(INS)—Our old friend, Max the Broadway bookie spied us heading his way, tightened his 54-inch belt, and held up a fat palm.

He grinned around a big cigar and said: "Don't tell me, kid. I know what you want. My opening line of the pennant races, right?"

We admitted he was right.

"Okay, grab a load of these prices, subject to change without notice, of course. But, confidentially, pal, for you I could do a little better."

We refused the generous offer.

Printed on small neat cards were the following:

NAT'L LE'GUE		AMER. LEAGUE
Giants	8-5	Indians	8-5
Braves	2-1	Yanks	2-1
Dodgers	5-2	White Sox	7-2
Cardinals	5-1	Tigers	8-1
Phillies	10-1	Senators	12-1
Reds	15-1	Red Sox	15-1
Cubs	30-1	Orioles	40-1
Pirates	50-1	Athletics	100-1

He explained the figures: "A smart guy will figure that National slate works out about 137 per cent while the American only goes about 122 per cent.

"But you and I know these figures mean nothing. Just sucker bait. For instance, I could just as easily afford to offer 1,000 to 1 as 100 to 1 against the A's."

Max took a fresh grip on his stogie and explained that, although the odds are the same, "personally, I like the Indians' chances better than the Giants because they got only the Yanks to beat." He continued:

"The Giants have several to beat. I got the Cards at 5 to 1 but believe you me, brother, I'll drop those odds in a hurry if they show me any pitching. With some pitching they could take it all.

"You always got to worry about the Dodgers. They got class and a swell bench. I can't see the others at all."

The fat bookie discounted the flag chances of the White Sox. He conceded the Tigers, Senators and Red Sox a shot for the first division but not the pennant. The Orioles will be much improved, he said, but not enough and the A's—well, they look hopeless.

His tone became conspiratorial. He said:

"And now, Pal, as a special favor to you I'll lay you 50 to 1 the A's don't finish as good as fourth. What, you want no part of them? Well, okay, Pal, I'll be seeing you."

The fat man moved on, smiling happily in anticipation of the chumps waiting for him.

Meyer Hopes To Add Name To Fine Phil Mound Corps

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Jack Meyer, star twirler for Syracuse in the International League last year, had one jinx opponent. That was Toronto. He simply could not beat that club—during the regular season.

However, in the playoffs, Jack did, 1 to 0, on a three-hitter. That was Meyer's biggest thrill in baseball—prior to getting a chance to make the Philadelphia Phillies varsity this year.

Meyer was one-half the pitching team of Meyer and Jim Owens at Syracuse last year. Meyer was the strikeout king of the loop, recording 173. He won 15 games. Owens topped him in wins with 17.

JACK comes from an athletic family, being one of five boys, all of them active in sports. All have played football, basketball, tennis and baseball. His younger brother Jim, 21, a year younger than Jack, is in the Kansas City Athletics' organization as a second baseman.

Like most ball players, Jack played the game early, although his first taste of it came when he was staying at a summer resort at Medford Lakes, N. J., as a four-year-old and all the boys had to participate in sports.

Meyer attended William Penn Charter School in Philly where he played third base and the outfield before turning to pitching.

After graduating from that school he attended Wake Forest College for one year but his pitching stopped because of a sore arm. Then he went to the University of Delaware for two years but didn't pitch because he had signed a pro contract with Jocko Collins, Philly scout, as a bonus player.

His first year in organized ball was 1951 and he had a 6-2 mark for Bradford in Class D. He advanced up the ranks the next two years, going to a Class B club, Wilmington, in 1952 where he had a 12-10 mark and then to a Class A club, Schenectady, in 1953, where he wound up with 13-11.

Jack lives at Fairlawn, N. J., with his wife and two children, Jack Jr., 21 months, and Cynthia, two months.

an insurance adjuster and also spends plenty of time hunting with four dogs which he and his brothers purchased for the outdoor sport.

MIAMI, Fla. — A telephone call was worth $44,800 to Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Toledo, Ohio, because it didn't come through in time.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben, owners of Hasty House Farms, had planned to send their English-bred thoroughbred, Stan, to Santa Anita race track in California to compete in the San Juan Capistrano handicap.

Stan won the race, paying his backers $16.90 for $2 and earning the winner's purse of $44,800.

Orioles Defeat Pittsburgh 3-2

Bases-Loaded Walk Scores Winning Run

GRAHAM, N. C., April 6 (AP) — Reliefer Roger Bowman issued a bases loaded walk to Vern Stephens in the ninth, forcing in the run which gave the Orioles a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition baseball game today.

The contest was only the third Baltimore has won in a 10-game road-trip with the Pirates.

Lou Kretlow became the first Oriole pitcher to go eight innings and held the Pirates to six hits in winning the game.

How TCP unlocks the Captive Power in your engine

You'll get up to 15% more power before you've finished your second tankful.

Did you know there's up to 15% more power in your engine that you're not getting?

Think of it—all this power held captive—needlessly!

It's like this:

Every mile you drive puts more deposits in your engine. In the combustion chamber—on the tips of your spark plugs.

In the combustion chamber these deposits glow "red hot", especially when you step on the gas or climb a hill. This "sets off" the fuel charge before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you—not for you!

On the spark plugs these same deposits cause short circuits. "Missing" follows—especially when your engine is "under load."

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP additive changes all that—before you've used even two tankfuls!

What happens is this:

Shell Premium with TCP stops that wasteful pre-ignition by "fireproofing" the deposits. Power works for you! And, because TCP additive makes the deposits non-conductors of electricity, your plugs fire every time!

The net to you is more power—up to 15% more! Power that is waiting to be used—not wasted! And spark plugs that live more than twice as long!

Shell Premium with TCP goes to work unlocking that captive power with the very first gallon. By the time you've finished your second tankful you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up.

There's nothing like Shell Premium with TCP—it's a Shell discovery and the only place you can get it is at Shell dealers.

Six-Furlong Mark Is Set In Previous Race By Wabash Moon

BOWIE, Md., April 6 (AP) — Chuck Thompson, a nominee for all triple crown events, turned in a corking come-from-behind effort in the $4,000 Soul of Honor purse today, equaling the six-furlong track record which had been set in the afternoon's previous race.

Timed in 1.10 1-5, the 3-year-old son of Reaping Reward held a 2½-length margin over Indicative at the finish with Jockey Eldon Nelson in the saddle. Third money went to Powder Flash, a length and a half behind the runnerup.

Chuck Thompson is owned by Gee M. Cohen and trained by Charles R. White.

J. L. Friedman's Wabash Moon, an $11,000 selling plater, had set the 1.10 1-15 mark in the previous race and earlier in the day the 2-year-old Hi-Sag set a 4½-furlong course record of 52 4-5.

Chuck Thompson went off $4.40 for $2 favorite with the crowd of 10,338 fans.

Nelson also won with Hi-Sag in the third. This 2-year-old son of Saggy and Imperieuse won by three-quarters of a length from Tropic King, a first-time starter installed heavy favorite.

Hi-Sag, second winner of the day sired by the stallion Saggy, returned a $9.20 mutuel.

The daily double (Nos. 7 and 9) was worth $181.80 with Kentessa and Grand Tempo accounting for the first and second events. Today's mutuel handle was $944,396.

Reynolds Placed On Retired List By N. Y. Yankees

"Chief" Then Picks Cleveland To Win

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — The official retirement of Allie Reynolds today snuffed out any faint hopes the New York Yankees had that the former great pitcher might change his mind and take one last whirl. Reynolds was formally placed on the voluntary retired list.

The loss of the "The Chief," as Reynolds was known to millions of baseball fans, undoubtedly will make the Yankees' task of wresting the American League crown from Cleveland that much more difficult.

In the eight years that Reynolds toiled for the Yankees he proved to be one of the greatest "money" pitchers in the club's history. In addition to winning 131 games while losing only 60 during the regular seasons, Allie captured seven World Series games to equal the record established by Red Ruffing, another former Yankee.

Although it was quite unintentional on his part, Reynolds himself gave the tipoff on just how much his loss would be felt by the Yankees when he picked the Indians to retain their championship.

In a recent interview in his Oklahoma office where he is deeply occupied in the oil business, Reynolds said he liked Cleveland's chances "because they have just about the greatest mound corps I've ever seen assembled in my time.

"I'd never think of counting out the Yankees," he added quickly, "but look at the Cleveland pitching—Wynn, Garcia and Lemon, with Houtteman and Feller behind them, Mossi and Narleski bound to be much better after a year's experience, and Herb Score virtually a cinch to become a regular winner.

"The Yankees chances depend a lot on how Bob Turley and Don Larsen get away. If they win right off the bat it will give them confidence and they will be rough all the way."

Eagles Sign Two

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles today announced the signing of Glenn Bowers, center and guard from the University of Arizona, and William Marker, pass-catching end from the West Virginia University. The two National Football League rookies will report to the Eagles' training base at Hershey, Pa., late in July.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, April 6—(INS)—Our old friend, Max the Broadway bookie spied us heading his way, tightened his 54-inch belt, and held up a fat palm.

He grinned around a big cigar and said: "Don't tell me, kid. I know what you want. My opening line of the pennant races, right?"

We admitted he was right.

"Okay, grab a load of these prices, subject to change without notice, of course. But, confidentially, pal, for you I could do a little better."

We refused the generous offer.

"Okay, pal, here they are and let your conscience be your guide."

Printed on small neat cards were the following:

NAT'L LE'GUE		AMER. LEAGUE
Giants	8-5	Indians	8-5
Braves	2-1	Yanks	2-1
Dodgers	5-2	White Sox	7-2
Cardinals	5-1	Tigers	8-1
Phillies	10-1	Senators	12-1
Reds	15-1	Red Sox	15-1
Cubs	30-1	Orioles	40-1
Pirates	50-1	Athletics	100-1

He explained the figures: "A smart guy will figure that National slate works out about 137 per cent while the American only goes about 122 per cent.

"But you and I know these figures mean nothing. Just sucker bait. For instance, I could just as easily afford to offer 1,000 to 1 as 100 to 1 against the A's."

Max took a fresh grip on his stogie and explained that, although the odds are the same, "personally, I like the Indians' chances better than the Giants because they got only the Yanks to beat." He continued:

"The Giants have several to beat. I got the Cards at 5 to 1 but believe you me, brother, I'll drop those odds in a hurry if they show me any pitching. With some pitching they could take it all.

"You always got to worry about the Dodgers. They got class and a swell bench. I can't see the others at all."

The fat bookie discounted the flag chances of the White Sox. He conceded the Tigers, Senators and Red Sox a shot for the first division but not the pennant. The Orioles will be much improved, he said, but not enough and the A's—well, they look hopeless.

His tone became conspiratorial. He said:

"And now, Pal, as a special favor to you I'll lay you 50 to 1 the A's don't finish as good as fourth. What, you want no part of them? Well, okay, Pal, I'll be seeing you."

The fat man moved on, smiling happily in anticipation of the chumps waiting for him.

Meyer Hopes To Add Name To Fine Phil Mound Corps

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Jack Meyer, star twirler for Syracuse in the International League last year, had one jinx opponent. That was Toronto. He simply could not beat that club—during the regular season.

However, in the playoffs, Jack did, 1 to 0, on a three-hitter. That was Meyer's biggest thrill in baseball—prior to getting a chance to make the Philadelphia Phillies varsity this year.

Meyer was one-half the pitching team of Meyer and Jim Owens at Syracuse last year. Meyer was the strikeout king of the loop, recording 173. He won 15 games, Owens topped him in wins with 17.

JACK comes from an athletic family, being one of five boys, all of them active in sports. All have played football, basketball, tennis and baseball. His younger brother Jim, 21, a year younger than Jack, is in the Kansas City Athletics' organization as a second baseman.

Like most ball players, Jack played the game early, although his first taste of it came when he was staying at a summer resort at Medford Lakes, N. J., as a four-year-old and all the boys had to participate in sports.

Meyer attended William Penn Charter School in Philly where he played third base and the outfield before turning to pitching.

After graduating from that school he attended Wake Forest College for one year but his pitching stopped because of a sore arm. Then he went to the University of Delaware for two years but didn't pitch because he had signed a pro contract with Jocko Collins, Philly scout, as a bonus player.

His first year in organized ball was 1951 and he had a 6-2 mark for Bradford in Class D. He advanced up the ranks the next two years, going to a Class B club, Wilmington, in 1952 where he had a 12-10 mark and then to a Class A club, Schenectady, in 1953, where he wound up with 13-11.

Jack lives at Fairlawn, N. J., with his wife and two children, Jack Jr., 21 months, and Cynthia, two months.

an insurance adjuster and also spends plenty of time hunting with four dogs which he and his brothers purchased for the outdoor sport.

MIAMI, Fla. — A telephone call was worth $44,800 to Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Toledo, Ohio, because it didn't come through in time.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben, owners of Hasty House Farms, had planned to send their English-bred thoroughbred, Stan, to Santa Anita race track in California to compete in the San Juan Capistrano handicap.

A call completing arrangements was delayed, so Stan entered the Hialeah Turf Handicap here instead.

Stan won the race, paying his backers $16.90 for $2 and earning the winner's purse of $44,800.

Orioles Defeat Pittsburgh 3-2

Bases-Loaded Walk Scores Winning Run

GRAHAM, N. C., April 6 (AP) — Reliefer Roger Bowman issued a bases loaded walk to Vern Stephens in the ninth, forcing in the run which gave the Orioles a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition baseball game today.

The contest was only the third Baltimore has won in a 10-game road-trip with the Pirates.

Lou Kretlow became the first Oriole pitcher to go eight innings and held the Pirates to six hits in winning the game.

Ramon Mejias, rookie rightfielder, accounted for both of the Pittsburgh runs with a two-out triple off Kretlow in the fifth.

Willie Miranda and Billy Cox had two hits each for Baltimore, Miranda driving in two runs with a single in the fourth.

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Conservation officials, counting parts of Michigan's deer herd by helicopter, also came up with these figures after a 2½-hour flight:

Thirty nine Canadian geese, 2 swans, some 300 ducks, 27 ruffed grouse, 1 snowshoe hare, 1 fox, 2 squirrels, 2 hawks, 1 owl and a bald eagle.

How TCP unlocks the Captive Power in your engine

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, overcomes pre-ignition and spark plug misfiring caused by the steady accumulation of lead deposits in the combustion chamber.

You'll get up to 15% more power before you've finished your second tankful.

Did you know there's up to 15% more power in your engine that you're not getting?

Think of it—all this power held captive—needlessly!

It's like this:

Every mile you drive puts more deposits in your engine. In the combustion chamber—on the tips of your spark plugs.

In the combustion chamber these deposits glow "red hot", especially when you step on the gas or climb a hill. This "sets off" the fuel charge before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you—not for you!

On the spark plugs these same deposits cause short circuits. "Missing" follows—especially when your engine is "under load."

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP additive changes all that—before you've used even two tankfuls!

What happens is this:

Shell Premium with TCP stops that wasteful pre-ignition by "fireproofing" the

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (INS) — Jack Warner has grabbed another top TV show, "Our Miss Brooks," for a full length motion picture and it goes without saying that Eve Arden, who is as much at home in films as she is in TV, will be the star.

Just as Warners did with "Dragnet," bringing Jack Webb, his writers and practically the entire crew to the studio, "Our Miss Brooks" will be kept intact with Al Lewis continuing his writing and directing chores and David Weisbart producing.

It's been a long time since Eve's made a picture, not since she gave up the movies to become TV's favorite school ma'am.

I happen to know that a deal is being worked out with Marilyn Monroe and 20th Century-Fox by the Music Corporation of America. Marilyn is getting some good advice from Lew Wasserman, general manager of MCA, and I'm told she's listening.

It would be wonderful if Marilyn could make another picture. She'll never be as hot as she is right now, and the longer she stays away from the screen the more difficult it gets, although the more we see of the glamor girls who try to be another Marilyn, the more we know there is only one Monroe. She's the best, and there are no substitutes.

Serious minded Lew Ayres has quietly completed two films, one based on Judaism and the other on Buddhism, the result of his six months tour around the world to make comparative studies of the great religions.

Lew plans to make similar pictures on three other religions, then he will start a lecture tour to present the films, along with his own thoughts on them. He also has been given an advance by a New York publishing company on a book he is writing on the same subjects.

More and more, the film companies are realizing that people want to hear about religion. Our Christian belief is the one thing that is shining and strong in these days of dark uncertainty.

The Easter bonnets this year, according to two authorities, Freddie Fredericks and our own Rex, are extremely feminine.

Says Freddie: "The big Easter hat fashion is up sloped, a sloping, flower-pot style, and you can praise or blame Audrey Hepburn. She inspired me to create this fashion, which is sweeping the country."

Rex says: "The most popular Easter bonnet this year will be romantic."

I suppose Rex means that the ladies must wear something more

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (INS) — Jack Warner has grabbed another top TV show, "Our Miss Brooks," for a full length motion picture and it goes without saying that Eve Arden, who is as much at home in films as she is in TV, will be the star.

Just as Warners did with "Dragnet," bringing Jack Webb, his writers and practically the entire crew to the studio, "Our Miss Brooks" will be kept intact with Al Lewis continuing his writing and directing chores and David Weisbart producing.

It's been a long time since Eve's made a picture, not since she gave up the movies to become TV's favorite school ma'am.

I happen to know that a deal is being worked out with Marilyn Monroe and 20th Century-Fox by the Music Corporation of America. Marilyn is getting some good advice from Lew Wasserman, general manager of MCA, and I'm told she's listening.

It would be wonderful if Marilyn could make another picture. She'll never be as hot as she is right now, and the longer she stays away from the screen the more difficult it gets, although the more we see of the glamor girls who try to be another Marilyn, the more we know there is only one Monroe. She's the best, and there are no substitutes.

Serious minded Lew Ayres has quietly completed two films, one based on Judaism and the other on Buddhism, the result of his six months tour around the world to make comparative studies of the great religions.

Lew plans to make similar pictures on three other religions, then he will start a lecture tour to present the films, along with his own thoughts on them. He also has been given an advance by a New York publishing company on a book he is writing on the same subjects.

More and more, the film companies are realizing that people want to hear about religion. Our Christian belief is the one thing that is shining and strong in these days of dark uncertainty.

The Easter bonnets this year, according to two authorities, Freddie Fredericks and our own Rex, are extremely feminine.

Says Freddie: "The big Easter hat fashion is up sloped, a sloping, flower-pot style, and you can praise or blame Audrey Hepburn. She inspired me to create this fashion, which is sweeping the country."

Rex says: "The most popular Easter bonnet this year will be romantic."

I suppose Rex means that the ladies must wear something more

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

U P N G X Z N U Z L J C U J C F G L Z F G Z L

Q N R I V J P Q X F W U — E Q X V X E U.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WHEN DEATH HAS TAKEN OFF THE MASK, THEY WILL KNOW ONE ANOTHER —PENN.

The sugar regarded today as a necessity in every household was so rare before the 16th century that only the extremely wealthy could afford it.

NO EXCUSE

IT IS NO cause for dismay or self-criticism when certain types of slams are missed, because the regrettable truth is that we have not yet learned to cope with all sorts of holdings. But there is no excuse for missing a slam under such circumstances as the following:

North dealer.

North-South vulnerable and 40 on score.

	♠ A Q 10 5 3 ♥ A Q 4 ♦ 6 5 2 ♣ K 8
♠ 8 4 2 ♥ K 6 ♦ 10 7 ♣ Q J 9 5 4 2	N W E S	♠ K 9 7 ♥ J 10 9 8 5 2 ♦ 9 ♣ 7 6 3
	♠ J 6 ♥ 7 3 ♦ A K Q J 8 4 3 ♣ A 10

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
4 ♥	Dble.	5 ♣	Dble.
5 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

West's opening lead against the five-diamond contract was of no consequence—South could easily win 12 tricks, and as a matter of fact could do a trick better than that by squeezing East between spades and hearts.

Perhaps North-South stopped short of a slam because the opponents doubled lower bids, or perhaps they simply felt they had exhausted their own lines of investigation. A third possibility is that the 40 score North-South "enjoyed" may have played a part in their failure—a part-score often does make slam bidding harder instead of easier.

Actually, however, the North-South bidding got off to a bad start when South responded with only two diamonds to his partner's spade opening. Many players follow this sort of practice when they lack good support for partner's suit, but the theory is psychologically unsound. In this case (as in many others) South did not need support for spades—he had a solid suit of his own, and since he had an outside ace there was no conceivable reason for being afraid of a jump takeout. However, even this would have been of no consequence if South had shown more courage when North made the obvious slam try of four hearts. Regardless of the fact that East doubled that bid, South then should have jumped straight to six diamonds.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WHEN DEATH HAS TAKEN OFF THE MASK, THEY WILL KNOW ONE ANOTHER —PENN.

The sugar regarded today as a necessity in every household was so rare before the 16th century that only the extremely wealthy could afford it.

County Parents' Workshop Set For April 15

Beall Elementary Will Host Meeting

Another parent discussion group workshop for Allegany County will be conducted at Beall Elementary School in Frostburg Friday, April 15, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public schools.

Dr. Richard Brandt of the Institute of Child Study at the University of Maryland will serve as consultant for the workshop which will begin at 10 a. m. and end at 3 p. m.

As an added feature this time arrangements also are being made for an evening session from 7 until 9 o'clock at West Side School. Dr. Brandt will lecture on some phase of child development.

Higgins said the evening meeting is being planned to give men an opportunity to hear the consultant. It also will prove beneficial for teachers and principals who otherwise would be unable to attend, he added.

At the daytime sessions the demonstrations will feature groups of parents working directly with the consultant. At the morning meeting, the Centre Street School parent group will present an American Theatre Wing play as a stimulant to discussion.

After lunch in the school cafeteria, the same pattern will be followed. This time a new film will be shown as a stimulus to parent discussion.

Mrs. Frances W. Shafferman, parent education chairman of the State PTA, has assisted in notifying parents of the coming workshop.

Higgins said principals are requested to notify him by next Wednesday as to the number from their respective schools planning to attend. Between 150 and 180 are expected.

Watson Heads Ridgeley Rod And Gun Club

C. J. Watson was elected president of the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club during a meeting last night at the clubhouse on Second Avenue.

Other officers for the coming year include Paul McFarland, vice president; C. J. Phillips, secretary; Wayne Phillips, treasurer.

Lester Lewis, financial secretary; Frank Coleman, inside sentinel; George Jones, outside sentinel. William Spangler, three-year trustee, and Leo Detrick, two-year trustee.

Retiring president is R. W. Graham. Installation of officers will be conducted at 8 p. m. April 13 at the clubhouse. Refreshments will be served and all members are asked to attend.

Future activities include a shooting match on Sunday beginning at 1 p. m. on the trap grounds of the club. A "Coon Trial" will be held April 24 beginning at 1 p. m. on the farm opposite the club house, located about five miles south of Ridgeley on Route 28.

Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend both events.

Beck Represents Insurance Firm

Allen J. (Jack) Beck of Bedford Road is the new special representative in Cumberland and vicinity for the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company.

In his capacity, Beck will serve Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Mineral County in West Virginia. Employed by the Queen City Dairy the past five-and-one-half years, Beck most recently was sales manager there.

Beck is a member of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, Ohr Lodge 131, A.F. & A.M., and is on the organization and extension committee of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America. He also is a deacon in Second Baptist Church, chairman of the Baptist Brotherhood camping committee for the State of Maryland and brotherhood organizer for the Western Baptist Association serving Allegany and Garrett counties. He also is a graduate of Fort Hill High School.

A World War II veteran, Beck served as a weather observer with the Ninth Air Force and was overseas 22 months. He was married in 1943 to the former Miss Evelyne Isom of Cumberland and they have three daughters, Suzanne, Kathy and Joan.

As special representative, Beck will be connected with Philip T. Seibert and Associates, formerly known as the Frank J. Trammell Agency in Martinsburg, W.Va., which covers 17 counties in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Traffic Club To Mark Kelly-Springfield Night

Kelly-Springfield Night will be marked by the Tri-State Traffic Club during a dinner meeting next Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Ivan A. Hall, development manager, and Charles L. Herath, chief engineer, will be guest speakers. A highlight of the evening will be a 20-minute film on the new Prestige tubeless tire made by Kelly.

Now, Say 'Ah!'

Little Sylvia Delbrusso, a cerebral palsy victim, stretches up to say "Ah" for Peter B. Denison, speech therapist for the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, during a regular visit to League headquarters here for assistance with her speech and adjustment of the braces on her legs. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Delbrusso, 414 Hill Street, Sylvia receives services of the League's two major functions: speech therapy and the brace clinic. The League, now conducting its annual Easter Seal sale, still needs money badly in order to be able to continue its program of services to scores of children in Allegany County. The seal sale is the only direct campaign of the League.

First 1956 Candidate Files In Md.

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — The first candidate for the 1956 senatorial primary in Maryland filed today for Democratic nomination in the election still more than a year away.

Andrew J. Easter, a Baltimore and Washington draftsman, paid the secretary of state a $290 fee and handed the press a statement blasting "the disgraceful abuse of discretion being exercised by people in high places in our government."

He pledged to work for greater government support of schools and health and said he would seek to "abolish income taxes for all those who earn $5,000 or thereabout per annum."

Easter seeks Democratic nomination to the Senate seat now held by Sen. Butler (R-Md).

He said he is a registered Democrat but has voted Republican in the last five elections and doesn't expect any support from Democratic leaders.

"I am going to be a candidate of the people," Easter said, "and try to return democracy to them." He is married and has three daughters.

Easter, formerly a marine draftsman in the Navy Department, said he was fired for "insubordination" after disagreeing with certain policies.

Easter was one of the earliest candidates statehouse sources could recall filing for a recent election. The primary is May 7, 1956.

Momentum Is Gained In Plan To Abolish Electoral Group

A plan of the Citizenship Class of Allegany High School to abolish the Electoral College is beginning to get national recognition, including letters of commendation from two leading newsmen.

DeWitt S. Hyde, Congressman from the Sixth District, has approved the final draft of the resolution and has agreed to present it in Congress under his name.

Members of the class recently conducted a city-wide poll, in which 75 per cent of the students polled favored abolishing the Colleges, nine per cent favored the present system of election, and 16 per cent indicated they had no opinion.

The goal of the class, under the direction of Miss Mary E. Murray, is to have the Electoral College abolished with the President and Vice President elected by the direct vote of the people.

A poll has been conducted in a number of local elementary and public high schools. After making a careful study of the original setup of the government, the class felt that such an arrangement will not only maintain but increase the power of the small states since a majority vote of 25 states will be necessary for election.

Letters of commendation have been received from Lowell Thomas, Edward R. Murrow, Senator Kefauver and Senator Humphrey, and from Fred M. Hechinger, education editor of the New York Herald Tribune.

Brace Clinic, Speech Therapy Benefit From Easter Seals

The brace clinics and speech therapy program of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children were cited yesterday by Mrs. Hume O. Annan, executive secretary of the League, as she urged renewed support for the current Easter Seal campaign which provides funds to assist in the League's operations.

William R. Carscaden is general chairman of the annual Easter Seal drive which so far has received about $4,100 in contributions. A year ago the gifts totaled $5,100.

The brace clinics have been conducted by the League for the past seven years, Mrs. Annan said. A representative from the company which makes the braces comes to the League building the first Wednesday of each month to adjust braces of crippled children and to repair those which need attention. About 30 children are accommodated at the clinics.

A broad and active speech therapy program also has been conducted by the League for the past seven years. Peter B. Denison has been the League's speech therapist since last September 1.

Denison visits schools and homes in the county and treats youngsters in his office at the League building. His office hours are Monday and Tuesday mornings and all day Wednesday. He visits schools and homes Monday and Tuesday afternoons and all day Thursday and Friday. He assists about 125 children.

To assist in promoting the current campaign, the League for Crippled Children has arranged a speakers' bureau. Any organization, civic group or service club which is interested in knowing more about the League's program may call the League office at 1345 and a speaker will be sent to the desired meeting.

Although a number of organizations give proceeds from their activities to the League for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal campaign is the only fund-raising activity which the League itself conducts. Mrs. Annan reported that 91.7 per cent of the funds collected in this drive remain here. The other 8.3 per cent is given to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults to assist the nation-wide program.

Mrs. Annan explained that the League is not particularly inter-

Surplus Food Registrations Total 1,521

Report 101 Below Total Last Month

A total of 101 fewer persons were registered in the county for surplus foods this week, compared with the registration last month, totals indicate.

Red Cross branches throughout the county last night reported that 1,521 families have been certified for the next distribution in May. Last month, the Red Cross registered and certified 1,622 for the April distribution.

Registrars noted throughout the county that the decrease is due to the fact that some wage-earners have been obtaining jobs in recent days, as open, warmer weather, has caused a beginning spurt in construction and other outdoor work.

These figures do not include those registered by the Associated Charities and the Salvation Army, nor those certified by the Allegany County Welfare Board.

County's Liquor Laws Undergo Minor Changes

Patrons of after-hours "bottle clubs" who take their own liquor and drink it after midnight Saturdays or after 1 a. m. on other weekdays will be running afoul of a new Allegany County law enacted as the 1955 General Assembly wound up this week.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll pointed out, however, that the law represents no major change in the county liquor regulations. Introduced as SB 450 by Sen. Robert B. Kimble, it is aimed at strengthening existing regulations by statute. It also puts the penalty on the customer.

Driscoll explained that under existing regulations, a customer who buys a drink in a licensed establishment before midnight has until 1 a. m. to drink it. After that time, the bar must be cleared. The new act merely strengthens this by making it illegal to drink after hours in any public place or club.

Among the county liquor bills which failed was one to extend from midnight until 1 a. m. the deadline for sale of alcoholic beverages when Daylight Saving Time is in force.

Two others of Sen. Kimble's bills, however, were approved.

SB 447 changes the name of the liquor board from the Board of License Commissioners to Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. SB 451 prohibits suspension of a license in Allegany County by court action.

Meanwhile, Garrett County voters will get a chance to decide in a referendum whether a liquor dispensary system should be set up in the "half-dry" county, where only beer is now sold legally.

Chief Detrick also will serve warrants when necessary. He said a number of accidents occur on Route 28 outside the city limits and about all he has been able to do has been to assist State Police in probing the mishaps. He will now have arresting powers in Carpenter's Addition and the Wiley Ford area.

A veteran of World War II, Chief Detrick had been driving a school bus for the Mineral County Board of Education, prior to being named chief.

A native of Ridgeley, he attended high school there. During World War II he enlisted in the Air Force and while stationed as a gunner on a B-24 at Westover Field, Mass., he was transferred overseas with the Infantry and served in Germany.

Beall Elementary Will Host Meeting

Another parent discussion group workshop for Allegany County will be conducted at Beall Elementary School in Frostburg Friday, April 15, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public schools.

Dr. Richard Brandt of the Institute of Child Study at the University of Maryland will serve as consultant for the workshop which will begin at 10 a. m. and end at 3 p. m.

As an added feature this time arrangements also are being made for an evening session from 7 until 9 o'clock at West Side School. Dr. Brandt will lecture on some phase of child development.

Higgins said the evening meeting is being planned to give men an opportunity to hear the consultant. It also will prove beneficial for teachers and principals who otherwise would be unable to attend, he added.

At the daytime sessions the demonstrations will feature groups of parents working directly with the consultant. At the morning meeting, the Centre Street School parent group will present an American Theatre Wing play as a stimulant to discussion.

After lunch in the school cafeteria, the same pattern will be followed. This time a new film will be shown as a stimulus to parent discussion.

Mrs. Frances W. Shafferman, parent education chairman of the State PTA, has assisted in notifying parents of the coming workshop.

Higgins said principals are requested to notify him by next Wednesday as to the number from their respective schools planning to attend. Between 150 and 180 are expected.

First 1956 Candidate Files In Md.

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — The first candidate for the 1956 senatorial primary in Maryland filed today for Democratic nomination in the election still more than a year away.

Andrew J. Easter, a Baltimore and Washington draftsman, paid the secretary of state a $290 fee and handed the press a statement blasting "the disgraceful abuse of discretion being exercised by people in high places in our government."

He pledged to work for greater government support of schools and health and said he would seek to "abolish income taxes for all those who earn $5,000 or thereabout per annum."

Easter seeks Democratic nomination to the Senate seat now held by Sen. Butler (R-Md).

He said he is a registered Democrat but has voted Republican in the last five elections and doesn't expect any support from Democratic leaders.

"I am going to be a candidate of the people," Easter said, "and try to return democracy to them." He is married and has three daughters.

Easter, formerly a marine draftsman in the Navy Department, said he was fired for "insubordination" after disagreeing with certain policies.

Easter was one of the earliest candidates statehouse sources could recall filing for a recent election. The primary is May 7, 1956.

Momentum Is Gained In Plan To Abolish Electoral Group

A plan of the Citizenship Class of Allegany High School to abolish the Electoral College is beginning to get national recognition, including letters of commendation from two leading newsmen.

DeWitt S. Hyde, Congressman from the Sixth District, has approved the final draft of the resolution and has agreed to present it in Congress under his name.

Members of the class recently conducted a city-wide poll, in which 75 per cent of the students polled favored abolishing the Colleges, nine per cent favored the present system of election, and 16 per cent indicated they had no opinion.

The goal of the class, under the direction of Miss Mary E. Murray, is to have the Electoral College abolished with the President and Vice President elected by the direct vote of the people.

County's Liquor Laws Undergo Minor Changes

Patrons of after-hours "bottle clubs" who take their own liquor and drink it after midnight Saturdays or after 1 a. m. on other weekdays will be running afoul of a new Allegany County law enacted as the 1955 General Assembly wound up this week.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll pointed out, however, that the law represents no major change in the county liquor regulations. Introduced as SB 450 by Sen. Robert B. Kimble, it is aimed at strengthening existing regulations by statute. It also puts the penalty on the customer.

Driscoll explained that under existing regulations, a customer who buys a drink in a licensed establishment before midnight has until 1 a. m. to drink it. After that time, the bar must be cleared. The new act merely strengthens this by making it illegal to drink after hours in any public place or club.

Among the county liquor bills which failed was one to extend from midnight until 1 a. m. the deadline for sale of alcoholic beverages when Daylight Saving Time is in force.

Two others of Sen. Kimble's bills, however, were approved.

SB 447 changes the name of the liquor board from the Board of License Commissioners to Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. SB 451 prohibits suspension of a license in Allegany County by court action.

Meanwhile, Garrett County voters will get a chance to decide in a referendum whether a liquor dispensary system should be set up in the "half-dry" county, where only beer is now sold legally.
